Toronto Smashes Record

Crazy Market Buys Anything

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto stock market went crazy Friday.

Spurred by what brokers called the wildest speculative flight the Toronto exchange has ever seen, the volume of shares traded soared to a fantastic 28,704,000—almost double the previous record.

By comparison, the highest volume of the New York Stock Exchange was 16,436,499 shares. That, incidentally, came during the crash of 1929.

Thousands of speculative buyers, carried away by a "let's-get-rich-quick" air that grew on itself, ignored warnings from the exchange and brokerage houses and bought shares of almost any property with holdings near the site of a major zinc-sulphide strike near Timmins, Ont.

One veteran analyst called the market "typically hysterical—and then some."

Another said: "I don't ever recall seeing in 30 years on the street a market going so completely crazy."

Brokers noted that the speculation was based, in most cases, on nothing more than the fact that the most heavily traded companies had property near the site of the find by the United States' Texas Gulf Sulphur Company.

One broker said he had spent the day advising would-be investors to look before they leaped—"but all they wanted to do was buy, buy, buy."

THE BEST THING

But at least one broker was almost as enthusiastic as the buyers.

A. J. Reid of Waite, Reid and Company, said the buying boom "is the best thing that could happen to us—and to Canada, too."

"This 30,000,000 shares is nothing. We'll see 50,000,000 before this is over."

He also said he expects a reasonably strong speculative market all summer, as the smaller mining companies launch their exploration programs.

The trading volume, which saw hurried traders on the ex-

Ribbon Clerks Take Plunge

TORONTO (CP) — Hundreds of people who knew nothing more about the stock market than that they wanted to make money plunged in Friday to find out what it was all about.

Brokers said many of their orders for stocks, in the heaviest day of trading the Toronto Stock Exchange has ever seen, came from people they had never heard of.

"You'd never believe how much time we had to spend explaining to people how they go about buying shares," one busy dealer said.

Stories of 500-a-week clerks who earned double and triple their week's salary in a few hours were almost as common as rumors of the latest hot stock.

One teen-ager was reported to have bought a stock at 63 cents, sold it a few hours later at 83 cents and pocketed $200 profit.

Not all investments turned out as well. One young man bought a stock at $1.50 and within 10 minutes of the hectic trading it had fallen to 87 cents.

Poison Bed Sheets Sought In B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Medical authorities have launched a search throughout British Columbia for a shipment of bed sheets stained with a toxic poison.

Two young boys known to have absorbed the poison into their systems were in comas for 18 hours. Doctors said the poison was identified just in time to save their lives.

Dr. Lewis Anderson, medical health officer in North Vancouver, said Friday the flannelette sheets were brought to Vancouver from Antwerp by ship.

SALVAGE DEALER

They showed stain marks on their arrival and were purchased by a dealer in salvaged merchandise. The dealer took some sheets home and distributed the rest to retail outlets. These outlets were being checked.

Dr. Anderson said laboratory tests identified the poison as Parathion, an organic phosphate type of compound used as a pesticide in the spraying of gardens and fruit trees.

ABOUT 10 DAYS

The boys affected were from neighboring homes. They became ill on April 5 and April 7, about 10 days after the sheets were first used.

Doctors brought them out of their comas with the antidote Atropine after discovering their ailment was not a virus as first suspected.

Dr. Anderson said a stroke of good luck and fine work by the doctors saved the boys' lives. "It was a close thing," he said.

De La Beckwith

Hung Jury Again

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The second murder trial of Byron De La Beckwith, a dedicated segregationist accused of killing "the general" of the Mississippi integration movement, ended Friday with a hung jury.

Circuit Judge Leon Hendrick declared a mistrial and set Beckwith's bond at $10,000.

Hustled Away

Nearly two hours later Beckwith was hustled from the Hinds County jail where he has been held the last 10 months. A car with Beckwith sprawled across the back seat, sped away. Sheriff Fred Pickett and a deputy were in the front seat.

Beckwith, a Greenwood, Miss., fertilizer salesman, is accused of being the sniper who shot Negro integration leader Medgar Evers in the back last June 12.

The all-white jury reported itself hopelessly deadlocked after 18 hours of deliberation "and many, many ballots." The vote was 8-4 for acquittal.

Serving at 70

Not Much Time Left Khrushchev Admits

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev was showered with honors on his 70th birthday Friday and in return promised to continue to serve the Soviet people and world communism although he is at an age when a man "hasn't much time left."

With Soviet officials and Eastern bloc leaders gathered about him in the Kremlin, the premier said that despite the ideological conflict with Red China the road always will be left open "for a rapprochement and understanding." Nor will there be a break in relations with Peking, he said.

These were words that many of his supporters in the Eastern bloc wanted to hear, for they fear that a Soviet-proposed showdown meeting on Red China would cleave the world Communist movement beyond repair.

ONLY TEMPORARY

Red China's Mao Tse-tung, Khrushchev's bitterest critic, sent birthday greetings saying their argument was only temporary. Even so, Moscow radio was slow in reporting the message.

And as Khrushchev spoke, the Chinese Communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao of Hong Kong kept up the criticism by calling him "a stupid fool" for his personal attack on Mao and other

Pension Change

WINDFALL FOR B.C.

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative
Reporter

B.C. is likely to get a $100,000,000 to $160,000,000 investment windfall as a result of Prime Minister Pearson's modified Canada Pension Plan.

A drastic increase in the amount of pension fund assets to be made available for provincial investment is believed to be one of the lures held out to Quebec in the latest proposal. (See Page 5.)

Details of proposed changes in the pension plan filed a 7½-page "private and confidential" telegram to Premier Bennett from the prime minister yesterday.

WELL PLEASED

The premier told newsmen he could not discuss the contents of the wire, but made no secret of the fact he was well pleased with the new proposals.

At the recent federal-provincial fiscal conference he had urged that from 75 to 90 per cent of pension fund assets be invested in provincial securities instead of the 45 to 55 per cent originally proposed.

TM SMILING

Had Ottawa acceded to his request?

"Well, I'm smiling," replied the premier as he brandished the secret telegram.

Pension funds and their availability as instruments of provincial financing are a constant source of joy to the premier. As finance minister he is responsible for the administration of public employee pension funds amounting to about $270,000,000.

AGENCY BONDS

More than 90 per cent of the funds are invested in provincial agency bonds.

Canada pension fund assets from B.C. contributors would reach a peak of about $400,000,000 in 10 years. Whatever portion of this the federal government invested in B.C. securities would free a corresponding amount of capital controlled by the province.

Around World For Drink

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Jerrie Mock landed her red-and-white single-engine Cessna here Friday night and became the first woman to fly solo around the world.

She also set two world records—the woman's speed record and the first around-the-world flight of her Cessna's weight class.

She's also the first woman to fly the Pacific solo. Her greeting from the airport control tower as she ended the 29-day flight: "Jerrie, we've got a cold one on the rocks waiting for you."

Belgian Strike Ends

Modest Win Say Doctors

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Representatives of 10,000 Belgian doctors on strike against a new health insurance law consented early today to go back to work under an agreement by which the government pledged to withdraw a mobilization order.

Premier Lefevre, following lengthy session of talks which began Friday, predicted that normal medical services would be restored to the country within 48 hours. The strike began April 1.

"The baby has finally been delivered," commented Dr. Andre Wynen, one of the strike leaders. "It is a modest victory," said Dr. Joseph Faber, one of his colleagues.

Minister of Justice Pierre Verheylen, announcing the agreement, said both sides agreed on what is to be discussed in formal negotiations to amend the state health law.

Most of Belgium's doctors went on strike charging that the health law would overburden their practices by making it possible for people with minor complaints to take up most of their time.

The doctors provided emergency treatment during the 10-day walkout, but many Belgian hospitals were jammed because of the strike.

U.S. Civil Servants 'Buy' PGE

New York civil servants are going for a $10,000,000 ride on the B.C.-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway and they won't get off for 30 years, it was learned yesterday.

The railway needed $10,000,000 for new construction and retirement of short-term notes. The whole loan was taken up by the pension funds of New York State teachers and New York City civil employees.

The 30-year loan will yield 4.5 per cent.

A cabinet order approving the loan was filed yesterday along with another which authorizes the B.C. Schools Capital Financing Authority to buy $10,000,000 worth of debentures from 23 school districts.

Vancouver schools will get $2,500,000 and Victoria $1,000,000.

My Summer Job: I Will Kill LBJ

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The themes turned in by students in a Jefferson High School English class were all entitled: "What I plan to do in the summer of 1964." One shocked the teacher.

The 10th line read:

"I'll take a trip to Washington, D.C., and kill the president."

The teacher turned the theme over to the dean of boys, Jorge Garcia, and he called police.

Carl Delvic, 17, was put under $5,000 bond by U.S. Commissioner Paul Game Jr. Friday on a charge of threatening the president's life.

Game asked Delvic whether he still wished to kill President Johnson, and the youngster answered: "That is what I would like to do."

Asked if the theme—which also outlined plans to purge the U.S. of Communists, Jews and Negroes—was an accurate outline of his plans, Delvic said, "yes, sir."

The boy said he planned to spend the summer raising money to hire an assassin, but if he couldn't get the money he would carry out the threat himself. He told Game he would try to get past the president's guards and use poison.

Delvic said he was not a member of any group holding these views.

The boy's mother was asked if she would accept responsibility for her son if he was released. She replied that it would be better that he remain in custody.

Officers Manacled, Slain By Car-Stripping Gang

Burned-out stolen car near slaying scene

Judge Says

Driver Seeing Too Much TV

VANCOUVER (CP) — Keith Mayor, described by a magistrate as a man who had seen "too many TV shows on how to get rid of the opposition," was convicted of dangerous driving Friday for trying to ram a rival mobile coffee truck.

Magistrate Bernard Iman fined Mayor $400 after noting he had already lost his job as driver of a coffee truck.

Court was told Mayor was charged after he ran his canten truck directly at a rival truck driven by Mrs. Pearl McDonald, narrowly missing a collision.

Mayor, who admitted his action was "stupid," said he was angry because Mrs. McDonald beat him to hot coffee sales to a gang of street workers. He denied trying to ram the other truck head-on.

A second charge of criminal negligence was dismissed, and a third charge of threatening Mrs. McDonald was withdrawn by the prosecution.

Brazilians

Find Signs Of Red Plot

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — The revolutionary command of Interim President Gen. Humberto Branco reported new evidence Friday of a Communist plot to seize the Brazilian government of deposed president Joao Goulart.

The evidence, in the form of maps of all regions surrounding military fortifications, was seized Thursday night by political police in a raid at the port city of Santos.

The maps will serve as additional support for the revolutionary command's assertion that its revolt, which chased Goulart from the presidency and into exile in Uruguay, came just in time to avert a Communist takeover.

TO DISPLAY EVIDENCE

The command plans to open an exhibition of evidence supporting its claim today at Rio's central railway station. The evidence was gathered during the Communist and leftist purge that followed Goulart's ouster.

The maps were seized when police raided the home of the mother-in-law of the former president of a Communist labor union.

High-Heeled Shoes

Near Body

NEW YORK (UPI) — A multi-pronged investigation was under way Friday into the bizarre Central Park slaying of a brilliant young nuclear physicist.

A phase of the investigation was aimed at locating the owner of the expensive pair of high-heeled women's shoes found near the body of Dr. Charles Gallagher Jr., 31.

Police said the nearly new shoes were stuck in the mud as if someone had been standing in them and then suddenly stepped out.

Gallagher had been shot through the chest with a .25-calibre weapon. Police have been unable to find the death weapon.

Detectives also worked on the theory that Gallagher, an associate professor at Columbia University, was the victim of a sex pervert. Police said the area where the body was found Wednesday morning was frequented by sex deviants at night and bird-watchers during the day.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — Three country policemen, manacled together by their own handcuffs, were shot to death early Friday when they surprised a gang of thieves stripping a stolen automobile.

The bodies of the three officers, all shot in the back of the head, were found just off a dirt road about 20 miles northeast of Atlanta.

The pistols of the three men were missing and it was believed they were killed with their own revolvers and left in the remote wooded area.

Their patrol car, its radio still on, was found parked off the road about a quarter mile from the grisly death scene. Another quarter of a mile away, the remains of a burned 1963 red coupe was still too hot to touch.

ALL MARRIED

The victims were Jesse M. Gravitt, 52; Jerry A. Everett, 28; and Ralph K. Davis, 49. All were patrolmen for the Gwinnett county police department. All were married and had children.

Gwinnett County Sheriff F. Quill Sammon Jr., his voice shaking with rage, blamed the murders on car thieves.

"There is no question that this is a result of all this car stripping and car stripping which is part of the crime syndicate in Gwinnett County," Sammon said.

"We're going to arrest everyone connected with this, no matter how prominent they are," the sheriff said. "They can't go around killing our policemen."

Motors are supposed to get bigger every year

(what happened to our new 9½?)

When the Evinrude engineers started to design our new 9½ they did the opposite to everybody else.

They went smaller.

They cut the size down to 34 inches. They reduced the weight. They improved the shape. They shortened the drive shaft to add power.

They made our 9½ into something that looks different and performs better than anything in its class. We predict that within 3 years every manufacturer will make motors like this.

Motors that are low-along, so you can troll right over the stern. Motors that you can carry with one hand. Motors that plane along at over 20 mph.

Motors that troll at almost nothing mph. Motors that are so quiet you can't hear them when you're humming.

Motors like our new 9½.

A Backfire

AN INTERESTING point about the recent borough elections in the British capital is that it reflected what the London Times calls a kind of gerrymandering backwards. Presumably this was an accident, since governments normally don't go out of their way to oblige the opposition when rearranging constituency or other boundaries.

The Labor Party had complained that the bill enlarging the municipal domain of London governance was motivated by partisan politics, with a view to get rid of the Labor majority in the former LCC administration. It had said also that if Labor were returned at the next British general elections it would rearrange the functions of the new London council so as to defeat the purpose of the bill.

As the Times notes, the gerrymandering was of a peculiar kind, since it lopped off from the perimeter of the London area several large tracts of the more plush suburbs which could be assumed to be Conservative in character.

In the borough election results at any rate Labor won a resounding victory, gaining two-thirds of the new council seats and having all its stalwarts of the old LCC returned intact. The majority image of the new council is the same as in the old.

Not surprisingly Labor chiefs are now seeing virtues in the bill to which they offered so much objection, and have eaten their words to the extent of saying they think the new administration should work quite well.

No doubt the Home government is now regretting that it didn't include the excised portions of Greater London presumed to be of Conservative sentiment. But at least it is able to claim the purity of its motives, even if this was simply a case of party miscalculation.

Reprieve for Timmins

AN AMERICAN company this week has given further evidence that perhaps only a tiny fraction of Canada's vast natural resources have been exposed to human ken.

The extraordinary thing about the most recent mineral find by the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company is that a single drill hole, within ten miles of one of Canada's best-known mining centres, should have indicated a find of 25,000,000 tons of ore. What is more, the top of this huge deposit was only 20 feet under the surface.

Yet this find was made only a few miles away from the Porcupine gold area where Northern Ontario miners have been mining gold and other ores for better than half a century. One would have thought that by now every inch of land within the Timmins area would have been prospected with "a curry comb."

Texas Gulf, which is the largest sulphur producing company in the world, has sparked off a new mining boom in Canada, and it could not come at a better time for Timmins, whose gold mines are reaching the end of the road. The miners will not care that the new ores are copper, zinc and silver instead of the more glamorous gold. The pay cheque at the end of the week is what counts.

In Dual Tribute

A GESTURE reflecting admiration for a young American president cut down at the peak of his powers will be reciprocated by a tribute to an elderly British statesman retired from the political scene.

In England, at hallowed Runnymede where democracy's first charter was signed, the famous Magna Carta, Britain will build a statue to the memory of the late President Kennedy. It will express the British sense of loss that came to the free world when this virile and youthful leader of the West was so cruelly assassinated.

At Fulton, Mo., where Sir Winston Churchill delivered his celebrated "iron curtain" speech in 1946, the United States will build a memorial in his name from the stones of a London church destroyed by wartime bombs.

One project honors a statesman in the outward flush of a career promising to be an illustrious contribution to human weal and world progress, the other a contemporary whose place is secure in the annals of history as one of its truly great figures.

Never perhaps were hands across the sea clasped more felicitously.

Too Much Hockey

I AM heartily sick of a bland voice announcing night after night that there will be no national news owing to some hockey match or other. The CBC is a national institute, many thousands of people beside myself want to hear the national news at 7 p.m. when their day's work is done. But no: postpone the news, hockey is a national sport says the CBC. It shall have precedence, to heck with the news, the world may go to perdition but don't let us miss one word of how a group of young men smacked a puck around an ice field.

Why can't the hockey match be relayed to some local station and let the so-called fans live in ill they are blue in the face. Or vice versa.

These are anxious times, earthquakes, local wars, strikes, stock exchange boom all cast into the trash can for what? An endless game of hockey.

Recreation Centre

As one who hopes to settle in your Oak Bay district shortly, I am very disturbed by the impending referendum on a recreation centre.

I have no doubt that the reeve and members of the council are sincere in their efforts to promote a progressive town. But may I ask a few pertinent questions?

Our Readers' Views

To be considered for publication in this column, letters must be on subjects of general interest, and must be signed by the writer's name and address.

In North America. Must the young people of Oak Bay have a duplicate in their own backyard?

Many home owners in Oak Bay are retired with fixed incomes. Economists across the nation believe that we are about to enter a period of inflation. Spiralling prices in commodities and services are inevitable. Why not devote energies to the control of costs instead of adding to them?

Most home owners have space in their own homes where they can devote their time to hobbies. Why provide for them in a recreational centre?

Finally I would ask each member of the Oak Bay council this question: If your home were in the area involved would you recommend this project?

North Can't Win War

WHEN Mr. Robert McNamara, the United States defence secretary, visited Viet Nam in March, an ageing prophet presented himself at the American embassy in Saigon, accompanied by a cat and three mice. He was not admitted, for these subversive animals had figured in the propaganda of the National Front of Liberation, the Communist-fronted political arm of the 27,000 Vietcong rebels.

The propaganda has been urging the people of the south to demand a neutralist regime, "normalization" of relations with the Communist North, and, ultimately, unification of the two Viet Nams. The cat and the mice are used to demonstrate to the unlettered peasant that even natural enemies can live together in peace.

In the autumn of 1963 Mr. Ngo Dinh Nhu, brother and co-ruler of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam, secretly made indirect contact with the North through the French, who have missions in both halves of the country, with the object of ending hostilities. It is reported that in Hanoi, President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam, 72-year-old veteran leader of the Communist-inspired insurrection that first broke out 18 years ago, was personally anxious for successful negotiations with Saigon.

"Uncle Ho" was said to be increasingly troubled by the heavy strain on North Viet Nam's impoverished economy which made her intolerably dependent on China as well as the U.S.S.R. By contrast, a Viet Nam at peace with itself, in which the Communists of the industrial north could tap the agricultural riches of Cochinchina, need be nobody's satellite. Reconciliation with Saigon would in any case be no more than a prelude to a Communist take-over bid, but there are indications that the leaders in Hanoi differ sharply on how far they should go towards compromising with the enemy in order to find a political short-cut to peace. The pro-Chinese faction in the Vietnamese Lao Dong (Communist) Party is now in the ascendant, and after Ho himself the two most important policy-makers are Le Duan, first secretary of the party, and Truong Chinh, its acknowledged theoretician. These followers of the hard Peking line, symptomatic of the Russian theory of coexistence, put their faith in the armed revolution.

The polite fiction that Hanoi had nothing to do with the Vietcong insurrection has been dropped, for although it may have saved the face of the Soviet Union as co-chairman of the Geneva conference responsible for peace in Indo-China, it serves as purpose of Peking's "Radio Liberation" in the North daily broadcasts support for the "National Front" in the South. On "solidarity days" workers contribute a day's wages for the guerrillas, or clothing and medicines are collected for them. Communist spokesmen in Hanoi now emphasize that the struggle to build a strong, economically sound state in the north is complementary to the revolution in the south for a powerful North Viet Nam would be decisive in winning the gun-battle for the Cochinchina rice-bowl.

The Communists claim they now control two-thirds of South Viet Nam and half of its 14 million people. The Central Committee of the National Front of Liberation directs a litter of real and notional mass movements for peasants, workers, youth, veterans, women, writers, teachers and a dozen other subdivisions of Vietnamese humanity. It is therefore stressed that National Front cadres are not only locked in a political struggle, but that they are administering an entire state within the South Vietnamese State — running schools, training nurses, collecting taxes twice a year, even delivering mail. The Communists say they have distributed five million acres of rice-fields to the peasants and been responsible for the digging of more than 200 irrigation canals. And Saigon denies little of this. Furthermore, the Front has permanent missions in Prague, Havana and Algiers, a press bureau in East Berlin, and a seal in the secretariat of the Afro-Asian People's Solidarity Organization in Cairo.

But it still cannot win the war. And after ten years of independence and a Communist leadership, Hanoi looks like a slum. Visitors say that in streets almost empty of cars, the buildings are unpainted and peeling, the shops short of all but the cheapest and simplest goods, the people often clad in patches, faded dresses and sandals, with cuts from old rubber trees. The "rice" ration of about one pound a day contained 25 per cent of maize last year, and this proportion has since been increased. The meat ration has fallen from one-and-a-quarter pounds a month to seven ounces, the clothes allowance from 18 feet of cheap cotton cloth to 12 feet. Exports lag; floods, drought, and "shortcomings in organization and leadership" have created a food problem whose solution the minister for agriculture has described as "extremely important and urgent." Some rice output must be raised by 30 per cent by 1965 if North Viet Nam's extra mouths are to be fed.

Some experts believe that Hanoi must finally defer to Russia's moderate policies, as only the Russians can inject enough foreign aid into North Viet Nam to strengthen its puny economy. However, nine out of ten Russian technicians have been withdrawn from the country, and this move may be more carefully calculated than it seems.

Canadian Communism

An Anachronism

ANOTHER bit of Canadian folklore died the other week when the nation's revolutionaries, the Communists, put themselves on semi-public display at their annual convention. For all the world, it looked just like a gathering of shopkeepers in the heyday of Imperial Vienna.

So typically bourgeois was the annual get-together that the Mounted Police informers who make their living by talking on the party must be apprehensive about their job security. For how can anyone continue to take seriously a group of revolutionaries whose big aim at the moment is to get a pension?

Surely no other country in the world has such a collection of tame Communists. Reds who are so respectable they don't even have beards or beets; look well scrubbed and contented, and even have a PR man to make sure the capitalist press is made to feel comfortable and welcome at the annual convention.

The party has become so respectable that if someone did show up with a bomb, there would be a flurry of activity—not to examine the device but to call the Mounted Police for help. So tame is the leadership that, if the revolution came tomorrow, they would be out in the streets trying to restore the status quo. After all, the status quo would save them from a fate worse than death. Imagine having to cope with a mass migration of the same Moscow bureaucrats who have made Canadian Communists miserable for so many years with interminable, silly memoranda that have to be proclaimed or answered in strict dialectical prose.

That revolutionaries have become respectable is disheartening but for Communists probably inevitable. Imagine working for the branch office of a world-wide outfit and having to submit to absolute obedience to a group of pencil-pushers who only have a vague knowledge of where Canada is on the map.

For it is not only the popular desire for peace, but also penury that makes the Soviet thesis of coexistence tempting, that prompts Hanoi propagandists to mingle their warnings of a long, hard struggle in the South with demands for a ceasefire and the emergence of nothing more Marxist than "a broad democracy" in Saigon.

The Chinese have a vested interest in Asian revolution and in a protracted war that keeps North Viet Nam dependent and docile. Today not even Ho Chi Minh takes a frankly pro-Soviet stand in public, but confines himself to insisting that Sino-Soviet unity means more than the right and wrong of the current quarrel. But it would suit Moscow to have a self-reliant Viet Nam, able to thumb her nose at Mao Tse-tung. And the Russians have realized that they can never achieve this by pumping aid into the North, but only by fostering the union of North and South.

Glint of Humor

By RICHARD JACKSON
Colonist Ottawa Bureau

THIS business of bilingualism and biculturalism is not ALL political blood, sweat and tears.

Amid all the uproar about it in Quebec and on Parliament Hill, one of the saving graces is that at least some people could be retaining something of their sense of humor.

Now nothing can be quite so serious, or nobody take himself so seriously as one of the Quebec MPs holding forth on the rights and privileges of French Canada and English Canada's supposed indifference to them.

This is basic and fundamental stuff, and in the cloud of political dust that swirls around it, just about the last place to look for any glint of humor to come shining through.

But it can happen... and that it does might be interpreted, happily, as a hint that it isn't really all that serious as to be threatening the disintegration of the nation.

It happened the other day when Real Caouette's wildly nationalistic and almost-separatist little band of Quebec Creditistes presented an amendment to a bill before the Commons.

Observe the mild-mannered Mike Starr, Conservative MP for Ontario, former labor minister, and just about everybody's friend, said that maybe it would be a good idea to present the amendment in English, too, so that he and other "bilingual" members could more exactly understand it.

Bilingual, that is, like several other parliamentarians, but not necessarily in French. "When are you going to learn the 'other' language?" the new minister without portfolio, Yvon Dupuis, called across the floor of the Commons.

"Already have," beamed the Ukrainian-born Mike Starr, "learned it at my mother's knee."

"French, I mean," grinned Yvon Dupuis.

"Soon as you learn Ukrainian," shot back Mike Starr amiably.

"Na zdoivila," laughed Yvon Dupuis just as amiably.

"A votre sante," chuckled Mike Starr, which as you'll readily know, if you're bilingual, is French for "Na Odd. But true."

Missing Fragment

Lost or Hidden?

By NIGEL GOBING

LAST week one of the most famous chunks of marble in the world, the "Venus de Milo" from the Louvre, displayed her charms for the first time in a Tokyo exhibition.

Her journey there has roused furious opposition in France. Parisians resent their treasure being riskily removed. The last straw came when the statue was chipped during its travels.

In fact, the Louvre authorities are in no position to fuss about this chip. Lost—or some say hidden—in their own vaults lies a far more important one. It plays a part in the weird story of a work which retains many unsolved problems.

One day in April, 1820, a Greek peasant called Bottoni was digging with his son on the slopes of the island of Melos (at that time under Turkish rule). Suddenly the earth caved in to reveal a hollow containing a statue lying among marble fragments. Bottoni lugged part of it home and showed it to the French consul, who was impressed and determined to secure it for his country. Soon after it was inspected by an "expert," an ensign on a French ship.

The discovery had been made, he reported, in a "sort of pavilion, surrounded by an inscription and dedicated to Hermes and Heracles. The statue represents a nude woman holding an apple in her left hand and supporting her dress with her right. Both arms are mutilated and at present detached from the body." The ensign promised Bottoni that the French ambassador in Turkey would arrange to buy the statue and set sail for Constantinople.

His ship was hardly out of sight before dirty work began. A Greek collaborator priest told Bottoni that legally the statue belonged to the sultan, who would not be amused if it were disposed of. Bottoni was terrified, and soon a Turkish boat was anchored in the harbor and the statue lying on the beach ready to be hauled aboard.

At this very moment a French ship appeared on the horizon and quickly disgorged a French diplomat charged with an order to buy. What followed next is obscure. But whether by negotiation or by force the lady was carried off to Paris. Poor Bottoni was left with 550 francs in cash. Soon afterwards the French ambassador on Constantinople was on the scene in person. He was ceremoniously escorted to the site, where he was lucky enough to spot some more fragments, including a piece of the base.

Meanwhile, the statue had arrived in Paris where it was instantly acclaimed. The Louvre experts, Messieurs Percier and Fontaine, declared it to be unmistakably the work of the most famous of Greek sculptors, Praxiteles. It was placed in a locked room while a worthy site was prepared for it. Now something odd happened.

The celebrated French painter David, an old man of 70, was living in exile in Brussels. Longing to know more about the new acquisition he asked an ex-pupil in Paris to send him a drawing of it.

What was the surprise of David, when the drawing finally reached him, and he found that on the fragment of base discovered by the ambassador, and now united with the statue, was a clear inscription "Agasandros, son of Menides from Antioch in Meander, made this." What was all this talk of Praxiteles and the classical period? The inscription would make it a late work, say around 200 BC, and provincial to boot.

The effect of this revelation on Messieurs Percier and Fontaine can be imagined. The statue was not exhibited to the general public for over 60 years (in 1844). More remarkable still, the contentious bit of base was then found to have been removed, on the grounds that it did not belong. It has never been seen again.

Did it exist? If so, did it belong? And what about Hermes and Heracles and the inscription? Where are the arms? Were they ever really seen, and if so would their position identify the lady?

Modern opinion agrees that the statue is a late provincial work and thinks the fragment of the left hand holding an apple which was found with her probably belongs. "Melon" is the Greek word for apple. It seems most likely that she is simply the local goddess.

Funeral Act Loophole Now Plugged

The provincial cabinet has moved to plug a loophole in the Pre-arranged Funeral Services Act. The act had been designed to prevent advance sales of grave markers. But a New Democratic member told the recent session of the legislature that a loophole had been found.

Alex Macdonald, member for Vancouver East, said the act prevented sale of markers "to be installed at the time of burial or later."

But, he said, "sharp operators" had drawn up contracts under which the markers were "for installation before death."

An order-in-council passed Friday prohibits installation of markers without consent of the Public Utilities Commission "unless a deceased person is interred in the grave space or plot."

An exception was made for markers sold before March 1—nine days after Mr. Macdonald raised the matter in the House.

from RCMP Inspector J. L. Vachon of Whitehorse, Y.T., who denied that hoodlums, vandalism, drunken brawls and liquor parties for young Indian girls are rife in the settlement.

The inspector said in a telephone interview from Whitehorse that he was in Lower Post only last week. The situation, he found, was the best it has ever been in the four years he has been in the Yukon. He said he saw no reason for an RCMP detachment there.

WATSON LAKE UNIT The settlement is at present served by the Watson Lake detachment, 15 miles away in the Yukon.

Provincial Liberal leader Ray Perrault supported Father Levesque. He said he has reports that lawlessness is rife in the Indian settlement, the last community before the Alaska Highway curves into the Yukon. He said he intends to seek a permanent RCMP post there.

Father Levesque began his campaign for an RCMP detachment for Lower Post in 1962, when he went to Victoria and described the Indian settlement as a hell hole.

But nothing has been done. He said Friday that he intends to continue his campaign, even though he is no longer there.

AYLESBURY (CP)—The last two defendants in Britain's great train robbery trial were jailed Friday for their parts in the robbery.

Police believe the bulk of the haul is still in Britain.

THREE YEARS

On Friday Walter Albert Smith, 33, of London, was sent to prison for three years for receiving stolen money, and Martin Harvey, 29, also of London, was given one year on the same charges. Both pleaded guilty.

Fourteen men connected with the robbery now are behind bars. Seven were sent to prison Thursday for 30 years each. Two others got 25 years each, one 24 years, one 20 years and another three years.

Announcement Monday

New Pension Plan Ready

OTTAWA (CP)—A new compromise federal-provincial contributory retirement pensions plan apparently is all set, but for the signing, sealing and delivering.

Prime Minister Pearson said in the Commons Friday he will announce Monday what he hopes is "the happy result" of intensive top-secret negotiations between Ottawa and Quebec, and with the other provinces — including Ontario.

A highly-placed government source said Ottawa and Quebec now see eye-to-eye on the details. They are almost certain to be eagerly accepted by the other provinces.

In Toronto, Premier Robert Harris said he has received details of the plan, which he described as "a progression that is very heartening." The details will be studied at Queen's Park over the weekend.

BUDGET FRIDAY In Quebec City, Premier Lesage announced he will deliver next Friday his budget speech, delayed by the hiatus which occurred in pensions plan development earlier this month at the federal-provincial premiers conference in Quebec City. Opposition Leader Daniel Johnson said this means "good news" for Quebec.

In the House of Commons here, Mr. Pearson said he will definitely make a report on the pensions negotiations Monday.

In the meantime, he wouldn't reply directly to a question by NDP Leader Douglas as to whether a whole new plan is being worked out, or merely amendments to the already amended Canada Pension Plan.

The highly-placed source, declining to reveal details of the compromise pending Mr. Pearson's statement Monday, said both Ottawa and Quebec yielded some points in their original positions.

Ottawa's Canada Pension Plan was based on contributions of two per cent of earnings up to the $4,500-a-year level, paying monthly benefits of $75 to single retired recipients after 10 years, with benefits for survivors at age 65.

Quebec's provincial plan called for contributions of two to four per cent of earnings over the first $1,000 income a year, paying monthly benefits of $125 after 20 years with survivor benefits for widows at any age.

Reports from Quebec and Toronto indicated that the compromise plan involves federal-provincial shared-cost programs as well as the contributory retirement pensions plans.

Frenzy Misses Victoria Offices

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Although an all-time record volume of trading took place on the Toronto Stock Exchange Friday, only a small number of the speculative shares which caused the excitement were bought or sold by Victoria people.

Of the 30,024,000 shares which changed hands in Toronto, most were in the shares of mining companies which hold claims in the area north of Timmins where Texas Gulf Sulphur has made a large copper-silver strike.

The manager of one of the largest Victoria investment houses said his board room had been crowded from early morning, but most clients appeared willing to sit on the sidelines.

"We did some odd transactions in a number of these stocks, but the volume and value was insignificant," he said. "Indeed we had no dealings at all in PCE, or in Central Porcupine, two of the heaviest trading issues."

He explained his firm had advocated caution to all members of its staff. "We regard this as purely speculative, and we are certainly not encouraging our clients to gamble."

Another leading Victoria office also reported considerable speculation interest in the tape—running an hour late at one time—but that local trading was comparatively light.

"Some of our regular mining customers did some in-and-out trading, but the buying frenzy which struck Toronto, and presumably other parts of the country seems largely to have bypassed Victoria," said a company salesman.

The two companies which have installed the direct dialing connection with the Toronto stock computer found out how valuable their new equipment was under busy conditions.

They were able to get up-to-the-minute quotes on any stock although their ticker tapes were running from 45 to 60 minutes late.

"It was a tremendous asset," said a spokesman for one firm.

While local business was quiet in the Ontario speculative issues, brokers reported that they had a busy day in the more conventional issues.

The strength of the national economy, together with news of increased dividends by a number of leading Canadian companies, has brought in a lot of buyers for "blue chips."

Memory Pargenson at $22½, Algoma Steel at $70, Noranda at $45, International at $83½, Interprovincial Pipeline at $83, Abitibi at $14½, MacMillan-Powell at $30½ and Aluminum at $34½, were all at or near highs.

EXCEEDED SHARE TOTAL

One of the interesting sidelights on the frenzied trading boom on the Toronto Stock Exchange Friday was the turnover of 5,322,400 shares of Central Porcupine, which rose from eight cents to 19 cents during the day.

Hamilton Writer Winner

John Robinson, humor columnist in the Hamilton Spectator, has been declared winner of the 1963-64 B.C. government-Press Journal travel writing award.

The announcement was made jointly Friday by Edward Barr, editor of Press Journal magazine and B.C. Recreation Minister Kenneth Kiernan.

Mr. Robinson's winning entry was a series of columns on a trip in western Canada during the Grey Cup season.

There can have been few of the original holders left at the close for the company's latest figures show that it has only 4,345,118 shares outstanding. Many of them must have changed hands many times during trading.

HUGE N.Y. DEAL

The largest single transaction on the New York Stock Exchange is believed to have taken place Friday when a block of 191,511 shares of Gulf Oil was traded at $55. It represented a value of $10,500,000.

The previous largest deal on the N.Y. Exchange was of 137,000 shares of Texaco in May, 1963. These shares were worth $10,300,000.

EARNINGS DROP

A sharp drop in net income during 1963 is reported by Johnston Terminals. Net income was $31,700 (80 cents per first preferred share) compared with $167,513 ($3.01) in 1962.

Despite the reduced earnings, and payment of dividends in excess of earnings, Johnston Terminals reduced its long-term debt by $254,000 and increased its working capital by $229,000 from $575,000 at the end of 1962.

Earnings before depreciation and income tax were $647,540, against $739,742 in the previous year.

Among its other business, Johnston Terminals owns Heaney Cartage & Storage and Bray's Transfer Ltd., former Victoria firms in the van business.

Decision Monday

Farris Lawyer Asks For Directed Acquittal

TORONTO (CP)—M. Justice Dalton Wells reserved decision Friday on a defence motion for a directed acquittal of Ralph K. Farris, president of the $52-000,000 Northern Ontario Natural Gas Company, at his Ontario Supreme Court trial on two perjury charges.

The judge indicated he will give a decision Monday—10th day of the trial arising out of the distribution of NONG stock seven years ago to municipal politicians with whom the company had had franchise dealings.

The motion to take the case out of the hands of the jury was made by defence counsel Joseph Sedgwick after the Crown completed its evidence. It was opposed by Crown attorney Harvey McCulloch.

Mr. Sedgwick argued for acquittal on both counts of the indictment against Farris. These charges that the 33-year-old Vancouver financier swore falsely before a 1958 Ontario government inquiry that he did not know of the disposition of shares in a special 14,000-share account with a Vancouver brokerage house and lied again to a similar 1962 inquiry in denying he gave instructions for the giving of a particular 800 shares from this account to four Ontario municipal officials.

Respecting both counts, Mr. Sedgwick argued that the inquiries had no business looking into the transactions because they did not constitute "fraud" as defined in the investigators' terms of reference. The stock distributions were gifts.

Police, Jail to Move Out

A $50,000 saving plan involving temporary relocation of the entire city police force—including the jail—and a delay on the start of the rehabilitation of Victoria police station, was announced yesterday by police commissioner Gordon Carter.

He said work would start on the $375,000 project in September instead of in June, so that it would qualify for federal winter works grants. But reconstruction of the police station and construction of a municipal court building adjacent to it, would still be completed as planned by the late spring of next year.

Temporary quarters will be rented for the force so that contractors can move in to speed reconstruction of the police station. Previously it had been planned to move only the detective and traffic branches.

TOP LUMBER RETAILER IN CANADA

Doman's Again Wins Award

For the second time in its two-year history, Doman's Lumber Co. Ltd. retail store at 280 Bay Street has won the annual National Forest Products Week merchandising contest.

The contest, sponsored by the magazine Building Supply Dealer, is open to retailers across Canada.

The contest itself is only three years old. It was won the first year by a Quebec firm. Then Mike Jiggins of Doman's took over.

Mr. Jiggins' entry was the choice of two of the three judges.

THREE JUDGES

The judges were: Dr. L. Z. Roussseau, deputy minister, federal department of forestry; John Hickey of Kingsway Lumber Ltd., Toronto, and 1963 national chairman of National Forest Products Week, and R. J. (Bob) Gallagher, secretary-manager of the Northern Interior Lumber Manufacturers' Association, Prince George.

The judges report they found it very difficult to pick a winner.

Regarding Doman's and the runner-up entry, one judge said that "both entries are first-grade and it is very difficult to make a decision."

WHAT FORESTS MEAN

"Although these are both very good entries and both firms have shown a lot of imagination in putting together their displays, I feel that Doman's have maybe given a little more emphasis to our forests in their overall promotional scheme," he said.

"The idea of National Forest Products Week is to bring before the public what our forests mean to us and at the same time promote the use of wood."

"The scheme of giving away 500 four-year-old western red cedars to children to plant for judging a year from now is very unique and commendable on their part."

5,000 CAME

Doman's promotion drew 5,000 people despite bad weather at the time of the show.

Besides seeing booths sponsored and staffed by manufacturers and suppliers, the

PRIZE-WINNING SHOW at Doman's Building Supply Centre, 280 Bay Street, drew crowds of Victorians to look at products and learn a bit about reforestation. Display was judged best retailers' promotion among lumber dealers across Canada.

crowds could try for prizes (wood and panel guessing contests), see educational forestry films and displays, ride a London double-decker bus and drink free coffee.

Visitors to the home owners' exhibition got free coffee, free hammer handles, car licence holders, corages of fir and pine twigs and even Halloween masks.

IN WAREHOUSE

The fair was staged in a new 2,000-square-foot warehouse addition to the Bay Street salesroom.

Panelling normally displayed in the warehouse was moved into a rented 45-by-22-foot tent erected outside.

A carpenter then moved into the warehouse and put up in a matter of hours booths that had been pre-cut.

A small storage room became a 50-seat theatre for the film showing.

The warehouse was decorated with fir and pine twig garlandings.

Small Douglas firs holding samples of wood products were placed in the store. Tree-shaped cookies and fir motif cup-cakes were served with the free coffee.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR NEXT BIG SHOW

Theme of Doman's second prize-winning National Forest Products Week merchandising contest was reforestation.

The commercial layouts were backed up by a reforestation display loaned by the B.C. forest service.

Plans are already under way for another Homeowners' Exhibition at Doman's, but the theme and details are not yet being revealed.

"It is safe to say that we will as usual stress the importance of wood in building," says Mike Jiggins, Doman's retail manager. "This is important in B.C., where 50 cents of every dollar comes from the forests."

Courtroom Parade

Youth Awaiting Trial Back Before Bench

A youth who appeared on a vagrancy charge in Saanich magistrate's court Thursday and was released on bond to await trial, appeared on a charge of breaking and entering and theft yesterday in connection with the theft of $150 worth of goods stolen from a grocery store early Friday.

He was charged after three youths, two of them juveniles, were arrested following a stake-out by Saanich police.

He was remanded to April 21 for election.

Magistrate William Ostler refused to set bail.

James Oard, Harrop Road, pleaded guilty in Saanich court to dangerous driving and was fined $250 and had his licence suspended.

Court was told Oard was seen driving at a high rate of speed on Tolmie when he was chased by an unmarked police car and paced at 80 miles an hour.

He was chased east on Tolmie, south on Quadra, west on Finlayson and north on Glasgow, then repeated the circuit two more times before the pursuing car lost him in traffic.

At one point he almost hit two small children on a tricycle, and went through two stop signs without slowing down each circuit.

He was arrested about an hour later following a search of the area.

When caught, Oard told police, "I thought it was a guy I had a beef with a week ago. I didn't know you were a cop."

A charge of skipping bail was dismissed in city court yesterday when Magistrate Ostler said the Crown had failed to prove its case.

Emile Calve, who left the country after being charged with the theft of $1950 in 1961, was charged after he returned to Victoria from Australia.

Magistrate Ostler said the Crown failed to prove each essential ingredient of the case.

Calve had been remanded in June 1961, for election on the charge, and was released on $2,000 bail.

"The Crown has failed entirely to prove the adjournment was made in the legal way, and this is necessary to prove the charge," said Magistrate Ostler.

"There is no evidence that either the accused or his surety were in court at the time the adjournment was made."

Calve is still in custody, however, facing trial on the charge of theft by conversion.

He was remanded to April 23 for trial.

14 Charges Faced By Juveniles

Two juveniles are due to appear in Saanich magistrate's court today charged with 14 counts each of breaking and entering.

The pair are charged in connection with a series of break-ins in Saanich homes during February and March in which vandalism was involved.

They appeared in juvenile court and have been transferred to adult court.

Apartheid Sanctions Advocated

LONDON (Reuters)—The conference on sanctions against South Africa ended here Friday with a declaration that total economic sanctions are "feasible and practicable" and called for speedy action on them to end apartheid (racial separation).

The decisions were recorded in the final report of the four-day conference which was attended by delegates and observers from about 40 countries.

"Our work has clearly shown that economic sanctions are politically necessary, economically possible and legally valid," Tunisian Foreign Minister Mongi Slim, conference chairman said in his final speech.

Peace Force Outside UN Pearson Idea

TORONTO (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson in a signed article in the May 2 issue of Maclean's magazine proposes Canada take the lead in forming an international peace-keeping force outside the UN but designed for UN duty when called upon.

The proposal is an elaboration of a UN speech by Mr. Pearson last fall.

But it does not mention that informal talks on formation of such a force between Canada and Scandinavian countries have already taken place and that such talks are planned.

Li-Gen E. L. M. Burns, Canada's chief disarmament negotiator at Geneva, attended the first talks in Oslo last month.

Trade Surplus Reaches $97,500,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada had a favorable trade surplus of $97,500,000 with all countries in the first two months of 1964 despite a sharp rise from a year earlier in imports from the United States, the bureau of statistics said Friday.

Value of imports in the two months rose 15 per cent to $1,085,000,000 from $936,000,000 in the corresponding period last year. However, the value of exports advanced 20.3 per cent to $1,182,500,000 from $984,500,000.

DOUBLE LAST YEAR
The resulting trade balance—excess of exports over imports—at $97,500,000 was more than double last year's corresponding export surplus of $48,500,000.

The trade tables showed that Canada's surplus with Britain has ballooned so big that in the two months it almost covered the traditional huge deficit with the U.S.

During the two months the deficit with the U.S. was $167,800,000. Roughly two-thirds of this—or $108,400,000—was covered by Canada's surplus on trade with the United Kingdom.

Exports to the two months to Britain rose by $48,700,000 compared with the similar period last year. They were up $48,400,000 to the U.S., $9,900,000 to other Commonwealth countries and $91,600,000 to all other countries.

Imports from Britain advanced by $9,500,000 in the two months. Shipments from the U.S. jumped by $117,600,000 and there were increases of $500,000 from other Commonwealth countries and $22,300,000 from all other countries.

Imports in February rose 19.2 per cent to a record $514,300,000 for the month from $431,300,000 in the same month last year. They also were up 13.8 per cent from the preceding February peak of $451,300,000 set in 1960.

Doman Story Began In Cowichan Region

The Doman story begins around the turn of the century. In 1900 Doman Singh came to Vancouver Island from the Village of Paldi, India, and helped to establish the village of Paldi in the new world on the road to Lake Cowichan.

The three Doman retail branches will be joined in the not too distant future by three more which are on the drawing boards.

Go-Getting From Start

Doman's Building Supply Centre at 280 Bay Street gave notice of its intentions as a go-getting firm from the very first.

On opening day, May 11, 1963, free gifts and refreshments were in order.

Just five months after first opening, Manager M. F. Jiggins staged his first Home-owners' Exhibition and won the 1963 National Forest Products Week contest.

With the accolade as the leading building supply retailer in Canada resting lightly on his shoulders, Jiggins began laying plans again.

A year later he won the award for the second straight time.

Even Abel Surprised At Red Wings' Drive

Punch Adds Some Kudos

DETROIT (CP)—Coach Sid Abel said Friday his Detroit Red Wings surprise even him.

"I knew they would be good in the Stanley Cup playoffs," said Abel, "but I never dreamed they would be this good."

The general manager even went so far as to predict Toronto might be the venue for the presentation of the cup to Tonight's game will be televised on Channel 7 and 8 and broadcast on CBU radio (590) at 7 p.m., according to the CBC.

the Wings, who went ahead two games to one when they stifled a Maple Leaf rally Thursday night and scored the winning goal with 17 seconds to play.

NO REASON

"We can win here Saturday night and we can win one in Toronto, and there's no reason why we can't wrap it up in Toronto Tuesday night."

Abel left his players relaxing at Toledo, Ohio, Friday, while he came in to Detroit to attend a National Hockey League luncheon. He said in an interview the unexpected factor in this year's final has been the depth of Red Wings talent.

NO BAD APPLIES

"A lot of people before the series predicted a Toronto run-away because of their bench strength. Well, I've had 18 players giving a top played performance. You can't beat that for bench strength. There hasn't been a bad apple in the barrel."

Abel said Thursday's winning goal by 33-year-old Alex Delvecchio, which was set up by 36-year-old Gordie Howe and 33-year-old Marcel Pronovost, "proves there are a few kinks left in the old dogs."

MORE OLDTIMERS

He also mentioned goalie Terry Sawchuk, 34, and defenseman Bill Gadsby, 36.

Manager-coach Punch Imlach of the Leafs said Friday he has been somewhat awed by the strength of the Wings.

"I never knocked them, but they're showing us a lot of smarts and it's hard to say where they're getting all the go-power," said Imlach. "My guys have been waiting for the third period to go after them, and with the Wings you can't sit back and wait—you've got to outlast them."

LEAFS PRACTICE

The Leafs practised for about 40 minutes at the Olympia Friday and then retreated to their peaceful hideout at nearby Dearborn to await tonight's fourth game.

"We're all in good shape," Imlach said at the workout. "Don't forget how we came back from 3-0 last night to tie it up. A tea mlike that isn't rolling over and playing dead."

FORTUNE KIND

Abel said fortune has smiled on the Wings, who have won in overtime and in the last minute after losing the first game in the last two seconds.

"I hope we've got over the habit of waiting until the last minute. It might have looked as if we were playing defensive hockey after we built up that 3-0 lead, but we weren't. We were trying for a bigger cushion."

"I don't think we played particularly well except in the first period. We're capable of doing better than that and Saturday we hope to show it."

New Ball Park, Same Old Result

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baseball's newest park, the $25 million plus Shea Stadium, opened Friday in New York and a crowd of 55,012, of which 48,736 paid, saw the Pittsburgh Pirates defeat New York 4-3 in the Mets' home opener.

A ninth inning single by Pirate captain Bill Mazeroski scored Willie Stargell with the run that broke a 3-3 tie.

Stargell, with four hits on a homer, double and two singles, helped pitcher Bob Friend, who has never lost to the Mets, score his ninth victory over Casey Stengel's outfit.

TWO STRAIGHT

Baltimore handed the New York Yankees their second straight defeat 4-3 in 11 innings. Boston whipped the Chicago White Sox 4-1, the Los Angeles Angels beat Detroit 9-3, and Philadelphia outslugged the Chicago Cubs 10-8 in Friday's other afternoon games.

Baltimore won its home opener against the Yankees on a single by pinch hitter Russ Snyder with the bases full in the 11th. A homer over the left field screen by rookie Tony Conigliaro his first time up at Fenway Park helped the Red Sox win their home opener against the White Sox. The game was dedicated to the late President Kennedy.

The Angels spoiled Detroit's home opener by knocking Frank

Lary out of the box with five runs in the first three innings. A three-run homer by pitcher Art Mahaffey, one of eight hit by both teams at Wrigley Field, sparked a six-run fifth inning and helped the Phillies to their third straight victory.

Mahaffey didn't get credit for the triumph, however, as homers by Lou Brock and Billy Williams bases-empty drives in the third and fifth, then contributed a run-producing single to a three-run uprising in the seventh. Felipe Alou knocked in the other two seventh-inning runs with a single that sent Brown to the showers.

At Washington, Don Zimmer's pinch-hit double with two out in the ninth and an error by Minnesota catcher Earl Battey on the play gave the Senators a 4-3 victory over the Twins.

The Twins, using home runs by Bob Allison and Bernie Allen, led 3-2 going into the ninth. With one out, Don Lock singled to center and Fred Valentine followed with a pinch-hit single that sent Lock to second.

One out later, Zimmer smacked a double to left, Lock and Dick Phillips racing toward the plate. Zolito Versalles' relay throw reached home at about the same time as Phillips, but Battey dropped the ball as the winning run crossed the plate. At Cleveland, John Romano hit a home run and knocked in three runs as the Indians defeated Kansas City Athletics 6-4.

Romano's homer came in the fifth inning with one man aboard. He singled across another run in the seventh.

SPARKS THE REDS
Deron Johnson homered, doubled, singled, scored three runs and drove in two at Los Angeles as Cincinnati won 7-3 and ran the Dodgers' losing streak to three games.

Right-hander Joey Jay went the distance for the Reds and held the Dodgers to six hits, including bases-empty home runs by Ron Fairly and Tom Davis.

The Reds got five of their 12 hits off left-hander Pete Richter, who worked the first 3 1/2 innings and allowed four runs.

COSTLY WALK
Ron Taylor walked Chuck Hiller with the bases loaded in the 10th inning at San Francisco, forcing in the tie-breaking run and giving the Giants a 5-4 victory over St. Louis Cardinals.

The end to the weird game, in which the Giants collected only four hits, started when Bobby Shantz walked pinch hitter Jim Davenport. Jim Hart then singled and Jose Pagan sacrificed.

With men on second and third, Shantz issued an intentional walk to pinch hitter Del Crandall, and Taylor came on. Taylor struck out J. Alou for the second out, but then was unable to find the plate while pitching to Hiller, walking the Giant second baseman on four straight pitches.

and the Mets greeted them with a banner of their own, a message splashed across the 107-foot scoreboard:

"Hi ya, fans. Isn't this the most beautiful park you ever saw?"

From the fellow in seat 17, row V, section 47—the worst seat in the house—down to a couple who won passes at the neighborhood supermarket, almost everyone seemed to agree.

Anthony Ponzio of Brooklyn, the fellow in the last seat in the top deck in right field, said he has been a National League fan "ever since the Mets got started."

He said "It's no fun seeing the Yankees play—they always win."

Narrow Aisles Erase Smiles

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's great, but they shoulda made the aisles wider," said the usher in the upper deck.

"How can you march up and down, carrying a banner in a little aisle like that?"

That was one problem the architects who built fabulous Shea Stadium—home of the world's worst baseball team—apparently didn't take into consideration.

The fans of New York Mets, rarely out of 10th place, are both lower-lowers and banner-wavers from way back to two years ago when the team was organized.

Winnipeg Maroons Trip Saskatoon, 6-1

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg Maroons stunned Saskatoon Quakers with a four-goal second period outburst Friday night that sparked them to a 6-1 victory and 1-0 lead in their best-of-seven Western Canada Allan Cup final.

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Oil Kings dominated Es-van Bruins in the final 20 minutes Friday night to upset the Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League champions 5-2 and take the lead in the first game of the best-of-seven Abbott Cup final.

Wayne Doll, Estevan's netminder, was looking the wrong way as Reg Taschuk batted home what proved to be the winning goal at 3:04 of the third period. Doll's error did not detract from a sparkling performance in which he stopped 57 shots.

Second game of the best-of-seven Western Canada final is scheduled for Edmonton Monday.

WOODSTOCK, Ont. (CP) — Five goals by Woodstock Athletics within four minutes in the first period Friday night helped power them to a 10-1 win over Ottawa Montagnards and a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven Eastern Canada Allan Cup final.

Third and fourth games will be played at Ottawa next Monday and Wednesday.

Illustrations 1 & 2 are "before and after" sketches. No. 1 shows my old position of my hands at address. My hands, as you can see, are a bit farther to the right than they now are in my new position (see 2). Now I get a more direct continuation of left arm and clubshaft.

The forward address position places my hands more identical to the position they should be in when the clubhead moves into the impact zone of the clubhead at address. You will find it easier to load with your left hand and left side on the downswing and to hit down on the ball.

TV Tab $1,800,000 Per Game

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League sold the television and radio rights to its 1964 and 1965 championship games to the Columbia Broadcasting System Friday for $1,800,000 a game. It is the highest price ever paid for the rights to a one-day sports event.

The price is approximately double the $925,000 paid for the 1963 game rights. This is the first time that CBS has ever shown the championship game. Originally, the Dumont chain carried it. The National Broadcasting Company took over in 1955 and has had it since that time.

Claremont and defending champion Victoria High play for the cup Wednesday at 6:30 at Royal Athletic Park.

Originally, it had been planned to unite Doug Anderson, Andy Hebertson and Eddie Dorobay on a line. Dorobay couldn't make it, but his spot was filled by another former Cougar, George Ford, and the line obviously did not suffer.

Hebertson and Ford scored two goals each and Anderson one. Ken Maxwell and Ron Cooke got the other goals for all-stars. Doug Couch and Jim Bronson scored twice and Orv Coulter once for Chiefs.

SAN FRANCISCO (CP) — San Francisco Seals made Western Hockey League history Friday night, winning the league title for the second year in a row with a tight 4-3 victory over Los Angeles Blades in the sixth game of the best-of-seven series for the Lester Patrick Cup.

The victory gave the Seals the league title, four games to two, before a roaring hometown crowd of 11,229 fans, one of the biggest hockey crowds drawn to the Cow Palace all season.

Last year, Seals beat Seattle Totems for the title. Ray Cyr was the hero of the night with two Seal goals. The others were scored by Gerry Brisson and Bill Singleton. Leo LaBine scored two of the Los Angeles goals and Willie O'Ree got the other. LaBine's last goal came at 11:52 in the third period to pull the Blades within a goal of tying the game, but they could not find the target after that.

New Landing Doomed Says Cuban Official

MIAMI (UPI)—An air commander in Castro's air force marked the anniversary of the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion Friday by warning that Cuba's Russian-supplied MIG fighter force will wipe out any new landing "in less time than it took before."

The warning was broadcast over Havana radio by Maj. Enrique Carrera, Castro's air commander during the invasion.

He is now chief of Cuba's San Antonio air base.

A Cuban exile "action" group known as the Mambises commandos took the occasion of the anniversary of the anti-Castro invasion to disclose it has launched an island-wide underground call for destruction of the Cuban sugar cane crop through sabotage.

Exile sources said it is the first effort in at least a year to enlist the Cuban people in mass sabotage attempts.

...A Good Five-Cent Flag

OTTAWA (UPI)—Canada may have a new flag design that will be tested first as a five-cent postage stamp.

Prime Minister Pearson Friday turned in the Commons as "entirely appreciative" reports that he has approved a design, but at the same time it was learned that the post office department is issuing next month a stamp almost identical to the design Pearson is supposed to favor.

THREE MAPLE LEAVES
The flag design he is reported to have approved is three maple leaves on a white background with vertical bars of blue at the staff and the fly edges to depict the Canadian motto "From Sea to Sea."

The stamp, ordered by Postmaster-General Amuloh Denis before he was appointed to the Senate, features three red maple leaves on one stem with a blue background and the inscription "United Canada Unis."

BLUE BACKGROUND
This stamp is on a blue background, post office officials said, only because white would not show up against white envelopes.

Billed as a national unity stamp, the new sticker is to be issued May 14 as a "special" stamp, but many more copies than usual are being printed.

35,000,000 ORDERED
The usual figure is from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000. Some 27,000,000 copies were printed of the peace stamp issued recently by the department.

The post office department has ordered 35,000,000 copies of the maple leaf stamp printed.

Webb and Knapp 'Out'

U.K. Firms Control Shopping Centres

MONTREAL (CP)—The annual report of Webb and Knapp (Canada) Ltd., says the Canadian company's obligation to purchase certain Place Ville Marie debentures.

The debentures amount to $7,369,618 from the project's 7% per cent sinking fund. The Webb and Knapp (Canada) obligation was postponed until September, 1965.

REDUCE LIABILITY
In return Webb and Knapp (Canada) has agreed to reduce a contingent liability from the Place Ville Marie Corp. to $2,000,000 from $2,500,000 and allowed the two associate companies to purchase an additional 800,000 Trizec shares for $1,000,000.

The report says this involved "a temporary loss of control" of Trizec's board of directors. But it says Webb and Knapp (Canada) will be allowed to purchase 400,000 of these shares and regain its lost seats on the board if it meets the deadline on the deferred debenture purchases.

When your family is young ... their security is completely in your hands. Here are two Confederation Life Plans that provide the help every young father needs:

Confederation Life's Whole Life Plan

This plan protects your family at very low cost—provides the amount of money you choose as a lump sum or monthly income, or both. It builds substantial cash values and earns profitable dividends. For instance, a $10,000 Whole Life Policy begun at age 25 will have a cash value at age 65 of $5,640. Dividends, if left to accumulate at current scales, would provide an additional $7,230. Together, a $12,870 return on an investment of about $6,100! A tidy profit—over and above the security it gives your family!

The Family Protection Benefit

This is an economical means of providing extra income for your family. You add it to a permanent insurance plan, usually for as long as your children are dependent on you. It increases the amount your basic policy would pay by $100, $200, or more, per month. The premiums are low. At age 25 for example, you can add $100 a month to your family's income for as little as $18.80 per year. You get maximum protection at the lowest possible cost.

Talk to your Confederation Life man. He'll show you how Confederation Life's insurance plans can provide money at any critical time of life. Phone him today.

Island Facing 'Good Year' For Tourists

By HARVEY SHEPHERD

Vancouver Island is in for a good tourist year, predict members of a tour which recently visited California and other parts of the Pacific Northwest to attract tourists to Victoria.

A report from the four members of the tour, which was sponsored by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, was given at a meeting yesterday of the chamber's board of directors.

MORE THIS YEAR
The report, presented by chamber director Pat Fremont, said that on the tour the four members had been received and to judge by their replies "it appears that Vancouver Island will be host this year to considerably more visitors than we had in 1963."

The report said, "It was very apparent that 1964 is bringing a large increase in the number of group tours, and that this trend can be expected to continue during the next few years."

OFF-PEAK MONTHS
It says Victoria should try to develop this business. It would help to lengthen the tourist season, the report said, since many of these tours are in off-peak months.

The report said there is some knowledge and considerable interest in the areas visited about the coming of north Island-Prince Rupert ferry service.

HEAVY TUG HELP
"There can be no doubt whatsoever that this service will be of great value to Vancouver Island, and it seems quite likely that the service will have to be on a reservation-only basis right from the start."

The tour members recommended that the chamber's tourist industry group impress the tourist industry with the opportunities offered by the trend to more tour business and by the coming new ferry.

It also recommended con-

Solarium's Shower Opens May 1

The Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League's 25th annual Shower of Dimes will be officially opened by Lieutenant Governor Pearkes May 1.

The Shower of Dimes is one of four projects through which the league will contribute to the $150,000 which is required by the Solarium each year.

Two fashion shows will be staged today by the league in the Douglas Room of the Hudson's Bay Company; during the whole of May blue and gold umbrellas will be stationed in business establishments to catch the donations of passersby and May 30 a tag day is to be held.

More than 200 children under the age of 12 years are treated each year in the Solarium.

Two Taken To Hospital

Two people were taken to hospital from separate accidents in Victoria Wednesday.

Ester Dutton, 178 Allenby, was admitted with facial injuries after a two-car crash at Caledonia and Douglas Street. Dennis McKay was treated and released after the car in which he was a passenger struck a lamp post at Douglas and Fort.

Envoys Pave the Way

No Trade Groans from Italy

Italy is one country which isn't groaning about its unfavorable trade balance with Canada.

Mario Castagna, Italian trade commissioner to Canada with headquarters in Vancouver, said in Victoria yesterday his country doesn't believe in trying to cut imports in order to balance a trade deficit.

Last year, he said, Italy bought $76,000,000 worth of Canadian exports and sold $55,000,000 worth of products in Canada.

"We're not concerned at all," he told reporters.

"We are not trying to do anything against it. We hope to correct it by exporting more and not by importing less."

Canadian exports to Italy consisted largely of raw materials, while Italian exports were mostly manufactured goods.

Canada, he said, has an "extremely aggressive" foreign sales force.

Mr. Castagna was in Victoria with Italian Ambassador to Canada Carlo de Ferraris Salzano, paying the way for a trade promotion program which opens here next month.

Why All the Panic?

Sleepy Time Girl Safe

An elaborate search started by city police last night was called off after it was discovered the subject of concern, a four-year-old girl, was fast asleep, blissfully unaware of what was going on.

Mrs. A. J. Moore, 1121 Catherine, phoned the police with the information that four-year-old Linda was missing.

A prowler car was called in and Const. Peter Bridgwood began a search of the area.

Meanwhile a call went out for dog-master George Barr.

Unable to find anyone, Const. Bridgwood returned to the house to pick up one or two pieces of the child's clothing to help identify the city police dog, pick up a scent.

The dogmaster arrived and was preparing to go into action when the child's mother ran from the house announcing her daughter had been found.

Linda had decided to take a nap in her brother's bed and no one thought to look there.

Luck Turns for Finalist

By KEN JOHNSON

It was a real turn of luck last night for blonde, 19-year-old Barbara Middleton, 1962 Newport.

She almost had to drop out of the Miss Victoria contest last week when a house fire destroyed her whole wardrobe.

But instead, Barbara kept her chin up, made her own dress and was one of 10 girls selected from 24 last night at the Empress Hotel to go through to the finals.

She told the panel of judges in the preliminary parade: "My house burned down last week and I lost all my clothes. I thought I'd have to turn up in a swimsuit tonight."

But after she was selected, along with nine other lucky finalists, Barbara said, "I'm glad I didn't drop out. It pays to keep your spirits up."

Chosen with Barbara for the finals in the Jaycee-sponsored contest were:

Myrna Bobroske, 20, of 1058 Colville; Linda Gower, 19, of 1765 Cedar Hill Crossroad; Sandy Johl, 20, of 2311 Blandford; Wendy Herbert, 21, of 7657 Brantwood Drive; Sharon Fowler, 20, of 230 Kemloope; Diane Muriel Martin, 19, of 949 Amphion; Janis Bowering, 18, of 3600 Beach Drive; Tisha Richard, 22, of 823 West Saanich; and Leila Paulson, 22, of 888 Verdier.

Judges were Mrs. Howard McKay, Mrs. Pat Dufour, Hugh Curtis, Robert Siddall and Bryan Holliday.

Hit Him with Bottle

Man Bleeding—Trio Ran

A youth who pleaded guilty Tuesday to assault causing bodily harm yesterday testified he threw a beer bottle in a man's face after a companion struck the man.

Gerald Haldane, 30, who was sentenced to nine months imprisonment, was testifying in the trial of Gary Johnson, of 1159 Goldstream, who was charged with three counts of common assault.

Haldane said he was riding in a car with Johnson, Robert Seigensberger, who was driving, Eric Zarit, Daniel McLean and George Baldwin, on the evening of April 3.

YELLED SOMETHING
He said someone in the car yelled something at two men standing in front of the Strathcona Hotel, 919 Douglas, and something was yelled back.

"Three of us went over to talk to them when this other guy came up and pushed between us and called us punks," said Haldane. He said the others with him were McLean and Johnson.

McLean is also facing assault charges.

STRUCK HIM
Haldane said the man put his hand on Johnson's shoulder and Johnson struck him on the side of the head.

"Then he turned towards me and I threw a beer bottle in his face," Haldane said the man was bleeding "pretty badly" so the three ran back to the car and drove away.

STOPPED AGAIN
He said they drove around for a while, then stopped again when they saw two men standing on the corner of Johnson and Broad.

"The three of us got out again and I asked them if they wanted to fight."

KICKED HIM
"One of them started to back away, but the other started laughing—he thought it was a big joke. I hit him a couple times and kicked him and he went down. Then I walked back to the car," Haldane testified.

On cross-examination from defence counsel Joseph McKenna, Haldane testified all the youths had been drinking before the incidents took place.

ALL DRINKING
He said before the six got into the car they had all been drinking beer or wine. Johnson had drunk both.

He said about 18 bottles of beer were drunk by the youths after they had got into the car and were driving around.

Seigensberger testified under the protection of the B.C. Evidence Act and the Canada Evidence Act.

DRIVING CAR
He said he was driving his father's car April 3. He said someone told him to stop when he was driving by the Strathcona Hotel, and when he did, Haldane, Johnson and McLean jumped from the car.

He said there was a fight across the street, so he called his friends back to the car. "Naturally I wanted nothing to do with it," he testified.

World Trade Week Set
The provincial cabinet has proclaimed the week of May 6 to 12 World Trade Week.

An order-in-council Friday said the observance is "in tribute to all the people whose efforts promote and sustain international trade."

Bus Change Put on Trial
Bus service to the Colwood, Langford, Metchesna and Happy Valley areas will change schedules Wednesday and will continue on a trial basis for three months.

Conway Parrott, general manager of Vancouver Island Coach Lines, which took over service to the area on an emergency basis April 10, made the announcement yesterday.

He said that after a thorough study of the area, schedules have been worked out in conjunction with workers' bus services to Rocky Point. The coach line will provide five round trips daily except Sundays to Metchesna, Latoria Road and Belmont Park and six round trips to Langford and Goldstream Road.

After the three-month trial period, the service will again be reviewed by the company.

Mr. Parrott said, "A suburban run of this type is extremely difficult to run on an economic basis."

"Our company provides this type of service on the Saanich Peninsula, and if it is possible we hope to be able to work out a continuing and satisfactory service in the Langford-Metchosna area."

Commuting tickets bought before abandonment of the run by Veteran Stages will be honored until midnight Tuesday.

In Wake of 'No' Vote

Shipyard Unions Harden Position

The position of union leaders in the shipyard strike has hardened in the wake of overwhelming membership rejection of the latest strike settlement proposal.

City Yards To Bid On Tugs

Despite the current shipyard strike, both Yarrow and Victoria Machinery Depot will bid on part of a $2,000,000 shipbuilding program being undertaken by Vancouver Tug Boat Company.

The two yards are the only ones in Victoria at present capable of bidding on three vessels, one of them 120 feet long and designed for deep-sea salvage work.

Officials of both companies say they will bid on the projects in hopes that if they get the contracts the strike will end soon enough for the work to be begun.

Hands Off Nests, Baby Birds

A warning that interfering with the nests and young of wild birds is against the law was issued by the Victoria branch of the SPCA yesterday.

"This office has received reports of the destruction of nests and eggs of wild birds, particularly game birds," said secretary-manager D. H. Beeching. "Many of these creatures are protected by law, and this type of incident is punishable upon conviction."

"Often through mistaken kindness, people will 'rescue' young animals or birds found apparently abandoned. These young creatures are not alone. Almost always the mother is nearby, waiting for the stranger to leave. If young birds or animals are handled they may be abandoned by their parents."

Good Ship Has Bad Time

Flares spotted by citizens off Cordova Bay last night turned out to be from the good ship Titanium, a 46-foot trawler, whose captain apparently became a little lost.

The tug Island Ranger was dispatched to the scene and when last heard from was towing the wandering ship to Sidney.

Pay 35 Cents

School Tax Up $3.25

The average homeowner in School District 61 will pay $3.25 more in school taxes this year, but the increase will be absorbed by the $15 increase in the provincial government homeowner grant.

The approximately $1,000,000 increase in the district's budget this year will be financed by a .78-mill school tax jump.

For a district home with a market value of $12,000 to $15,000, school taxes of $65.35 will be levied—a $3.25 increase over last year.

25 CENTS NET
This year's government grant is $65, leaving only 35 cents more for the homeowner to pay, according to school board calculations.

However, municipal taxes may also rise, biting deeper into the homeowner grant. Victoria, urban Saanich, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and View Royal are affected by the District 61 levy.

Oak Bay Recreation

'Common Sense' Centre Reason

The Oak Bay Recreation Commission is basing its case for a new community centre on "need and common sense," commission chairman Ernest Costain said yesterday.

Mr. Costain said opponents of the $1,000,000 centre, proposed for the intersection of Foul Bay and Cadboro Bay Roads, base their arguments on higher taxes and insufficient need.

FIGURES GIVEN
He said the average house—worth a market value of $15,000—would be taxed about $1.40 a month more to pay for the site.

Mr. Costain said "common sense shows many people would pay more than this in transportation costs for their children and themselves in going elsewhere for recreation."

MAJOR POINT
A major argument of the commission concerns the possible "swapping" of centre time for the swimming pool and ice sheets with the school district to make school gymnasium space open during the day.

"This will provide an added convenience for both students and users of the centre," Mr. Costain said.

A 300-car parking lot would also prove a boon to merchants and the schools at special events in the evening, he said.

Commenting on recent criticism of the proposal, Mr. Costain said much of it was based on misinformation and assumption, and some had even come from people who are residents-electors and do not pay municipal taxes.

RATEPAYERS
Only ratepayers will be allowed to vote in the referendum April 25, when a 60-per-cent majority in favor will be required to pass the vote.

Mr. Costain said an informal poll of 39 property owners adjacent to the site showed that, if they only were voting, the referendum would pass.

Coho Back Today

The Victoria-Port Angeles ferry Coho is due back on its regular runs today following drydock inspection in Seattle yesterday.

The vessel makes two round trips a day out of Port Angeles at 7 and 11 a.m. and Victoria at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Summer schedules of four round trips a day starts June 1.

Rocky Inspects QORs Thursday

courage and devotion to take on the challenge of the Christian ministry.

That "help wanted" sign was hoisted this week by the Roman Catholic and Methodist churches.

It might equally well have been raised by scores of other denominations. The clergy shortage is virtually universal.

MOST OVER 35
The Vatican's office of Religious Vocations underscored the problem by disclosing that 92 per cent of the priests and nuns now serving in France are more than 35 years old.

The report showed the Scandinavian countries, Latin America and England are particularly poor producers of priests.

U.S. NOT SO BRIGHT
The U.S. usually is considered a bright spot in the Catholic clergy picture. If you count members of religious orders as well as diocesan priests, the country has one priest for every 737 Catholics—one of the best ratios in the world.

But Fr. William J. Martin, chairman of the vocations section of the National Catholic Education Association, says this figure is highly misleading.

ing, because most of the religious order priests are not engaged in parish work. He estimates the true ratio of priests "actively engaged in the direct care of souls," is one to every 1,200 Catholics.

GETTING WORSE
And, warns Fr. Martin, things are getting steadily worse. From 1960 to 1963, the U.S. Catholic population increased by 4,360,000, but the number of diocesan priests increased by only 428.

Similarly dire statistics are found in a report prepared by the Methodist Board of education for submission to the church's quadrennial general conference which opens in Pittsburgh April 26.

It says the Methodist church "urgently needs" 2,400 new ministers each year but is currently receiving only a little more than 1,600.

THE VOICE OF ONE

By REV. DR. FRANK S. MORLEY

I hurried home from helping to select a teen-queen in Banff to attend a model meeting of the United Nations Assembly held by Alberta teen-agers. I was certainly glad I did!

The knowledge and intelligence of these young people frightened me. Their wit was sparkling and their command of procedure and subject matter near perfection. There was not a dull moment as they debated whether Russia should be expelled for non-payment of dues, sanctions imposed on Portugal for cruelty in Angola, or South Africa cast from the community of nations into outer darkness for her apartheid.

Hard to Praise
Why is it so easy to condemn, so hard to praise? Recently the papers were filled with news of a teenage riot. Here was a simply thrilling event for which young people came from far-off areas, billeted in Calgary for two nights, and from youth like this come tomorrow's leaders. Yet the event was barely noticed!

Can't Control Them?
Some parents say they can't control their teen-agers. Yet at the teen-queen contest it was amazing how these attractive, popular girls took for granted parental control. One lovely girl remarked feelingly and happily, "You don't disobey parents like mine!" She was seventeen. (Don't ever judge a teen-queen contest; it's too harrowing! I said afterward, "I would be mighty happy if a son of mine married any one of them!")

When parents, therefore, say they can't do anything with teen-agers it is just not true. Too many parents don't care enough to take the pains, or lack sufficient character, and the young people know it.

Calendar Aids Placing Of Flowers in Crypt

Arrangements have now been made to enable members of the congregation to place flowers in the crypt chapel at Christ Church Cathedral.

Dean Brian Whitford, in his letter to the congregation in Sunday's leaflet, announces a flower calendar has been placed in the corridor leading to the chapel below the nave of the cathedral.

The crypt chapel, its walls lined with niches containing the ashes of the departed, is the cathedral's version of the country churchyard, the dean points out in explaining the plan.

"If you would like to have flowers placed at the chapel altar to mark an anniversary, just write your name at the date you wish," the dean writes. "A suitable notice will appear in the leaflet. There are also now available some suitable vases for those who wish to place their own flowers before particular niches."

Holy Communion will be celebrated at the cathedral at 8 a.m.; with a service and Family Communion at 9:30 a.m.

Choral Eucharist will be sung at 11 a.m., Dean Whitford preaching the sermon. Evensong will be at 7:30 p.m., Rev. E. W. S. Gilbert preaching.

The younger choir under the direction of Winnie Westmott and Elaine Hunt will sing for the first time in First Church of the Nazarene at morning service.

Italian Envoy Promises Eye-Catching Visitors

By EILEEN LEABOYD

His Excellency Carlo de Ferraris Sabano, the Italian ambassador to Canada, held a press reception in the Empress Hotel yesterday and disclosed that his government is sending two enormously beautiful, eye-catching gorgeous, Italian fashion models to Victoria.

But only for a day—May 6—and in the interests of promoting Italian trade. And culture.

The beautiful, top-flight models are the Misses Eletta Polvani and Graziella Palumbo.

And they are coming along with craftsmen who will demonstrate painting on ivory, and fine leather work. One, Mr. Franco Ventura, is a master glass blower.

There will also be "extraordinary" exhibits of Italian cars, magazines and newspapers, Italian cooking demonstration, wine-tasting parties, and Italian movies.

With His Excellency was the senior Italian trade commissioner, Dr. Marcello Egidi, and the trade commissioner from Vancouver, Mr. Mario Castagna.

The idea was to tell the public about "Italy Today," which is a large-scale promotion of Italian merchandise, that will travel right across Canada.

It seems a unique presentation in that it is the first time this has been done on a grand scale, and combines the best in cultural, commercial and artistic efforts of modern Italy.

Big highlight for women, of course, will be the preview of more than 100 Italian-designed and made costume models at a fashion show to be given in the Crystal Ballroom, Empress Hotel, on May 6.

Show is jointly sponsored by the Victoria Symphony Society Women's Committee, the Italian trade commissioner's office and the Hudson's Bay Co.

The Italian models, flown here via CPA, will show fashions by CIDA of Milan.

The Italian ambassador did not have too much to say about women—he chatted mostly about trade and the pursuit of the same—but he smiled with great satisfaction at the mention of the Italian fashion trade, which is booming.

However, the young commissioner, Mr. Mario Castagna, went into more detail on the subject.

Mr. Castagna, who LOOKED more Italian than his seniors, was quite poetic about Italian fashions and made impressive "eyes" as he said how beautiful they were.

It was noted there was a lot of Italian knitwear in local stores, but not too much else.

"But this is your fault!" he exclaimed. "We have such marvellous evening dresses, glorious shoes. The buyers in your stores are to blame—they do not dare enough."

"There is a terrific boom in Italian shoes—not just the little sandals I see in your shops—oh such lovely shoes you should have them here! But the dresses—so vivid and gay, it is a shame Canadian women cannot have them."

"Wait until you see what Eletta Polvani and Graziella Palumbo will show you."

I parted from Mr. Castagna with the distinct emotion that he was right and that our cowardly local buyers should dare more and please us Canadian women like the Italians do.

His Excellency then left to meet Premier Bennett, but said he would be back in May to open "Italy Today" if his engagements permitted. May 7, Mr. Castagna will cut the ribbon at the Hudson's Bay Company store to officially open the ceremonies, which actually begin the day before.

From Kamloops

Mother of Year Indian Woman

OTTAWA (CP)—An Indian woman with 12 children, Mrs. Mildred Gottfriedson of Kamloops, B.C., has been named Canadian Mother of the Year for 1964 in a national contest.

Mrs. Gottfriedson is the wife of a councillor of the Kamloops Indian band. Last week, she was named British Columbia's Mother of the Year.

Along with her own 12 children, she has one adopted child. At present, she also has five foster children in her home. She has had up to 10 living with her at one time.

Through her efforts as a director of the Milka Nika Club—an organization sponsored by the University Women's Club to speed the integration of Indians into community life—she has been instrumental in finding employment for at least 15 Indian girl students and six youths.

Mrs. Gottfriedson was selected from more than 300 nominees by the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association.

The five contest judges were Senator Muriel Ferguson of Fredericton, Senator Olive Irvine of Winnipeg, Mrs. Alice Carter of Salmon Arm, B.C., Mrs. Isabel Walker of Toronto, and Jack Passmore, Brampton, Ont., representing the contest sponsor.

Mrs. Gottfriedson will be honored at a luncheon in Ottawa on April 29, when she will receive a plaque.

Officers of the Isis Club, which is a part of the Daughters of the Nile organization, who will serve the club for the next year, are Mrs. Elaine Young of Campbell River, president; Mrs. Jean Pilot of Comox, vice-president, and Mrs. Helen Bower of Campbell River, secretary-treasurer. These ladies' clubs work and raise money for the outpatients' departments of the Shriners' hospitals.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin F. Mount of Federal Way, Washington, and formerly of Ganges, Salt Spring Island, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Coline Anne, to William Alexander Walter Neilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Neilson of West Vancouver. The wedding will take place May 9 at 2 p.m. in St. David's United Church, West Vancouver. Miss Mount went to school on Salt Spring Island and is a 1963 graduate of the Vancouver General Hospital. Mr. Neilson, a graduate of the University of Toronto, is completing his studies in law at UBC.

PERSONAL MENTION

HOW TO STOP LOOKING OLDER THAN YOUR BIRTHDAY

What makes a woman's face age prematurely—with crow's feet, little lines, roughness? The answer is skin dryout, a condition caused by harsh weather, overbaked rooms, low-fat diets, etc. If this is your problem, you need rosi's skin cream. This famous cream, now with Allantoin, starts to repair dry skin in just 10 minutes! Allantoin floats off lifeless surface skin cells, opens the way for swift penetration of Pond's rich moisturized lanolin to thirsty tissues far below. Almost overnight, your skin takes on new tone, looks smoother, softer and younger. Pond's special formula will re-moisturize, revitalize even the driest complexion. Get POND'S DRY SKIN CREAM... use it regularly. In jar or tube, wherever cosmetics are sold.

Bride Wears Gown Of French Satin

Elaine (Lanny) Alicia Greaves became the bride of Mr. Barry Daniel at a pretty spring wedding in Metropolitan United Church. Standards of white gladiolus and yellow carnations were at the altar for the ceremony.

Rev. Laura Butler heard the vows of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Greaves, 449 Victoria Avenue, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Daniel, 1240 Newport Avenue.

Mr. Eric Boothroyd, organist, played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the dark-haired bride chose an exquisite gown of heavy French satin with the floor-length skirt softly plaited into a slight train. The fitted bodice was styled with scoop neckline and lily-point sleeves. For "something borrowed and old" she wore her mother's crystal necklace. Tulle and satin floral headpiece held her bouffant shoulder-length veil. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and green ivy.

Miss Sandra Lindsey, maid of honor, Miss Sandra Lindsey, bridesmaid, and Miss Yvonne Daniel, groom's sister as junior bridesmaid, were gownned alike in sapphire blue peau de sautoir, short-length dresses fashioned after the bride's. They wore tulle and peau de sautoir flowered headpieces on tone. Miss Lindsey carried cascade of Kokomo carnations while the bridesmaids carried pink carnations.

Mr. Gerry Wade was his cousin's best man. Mr. Bill Poggan and Mr. Rick Greaves, bride's brother, were ushers.

Mr. Stan Harris proposed the toast to the bride at a reception in War Amps Hall, Oak Bay Avenue. Three-tiered cake, placed in a crocheted centrepiece with small pink roses in folds, centred the bride's table.

For going-away the bride changed into a powder blue boucle suit with navy accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

For a honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Daniel travelled to California and on to Calgary, Alta., where they will make their home.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: At last I've found a kindred spirit. The wife who signed her letter, "I Appreciate Him," feels just as I do. Please come to me as another happy sob.

I hate housework and I make no secret of it. My husband is a casual person, too. In fact he encourages me to be relaxed about things. He says he got enough of the perfectionist, nit-pickers' routine when he was in the army.

So, Ann, we really live in our home and it looks it.

Last week a guest found a stale doughnut under a sofa cushion. It must have been there for a month. It was not the least bit flustered. My adorable husband thought it was the funniest thing that had happened in ages.

So, Ann, please print my letter in support of relaxed, tension-free living. It's great—MRS. CONTENTMENT.

Dear Mrs. Contentment: Happiness is a stale doughnut under the sofa cushion. Well, I've heard everything. But if that's the way it is at your house and everybody's relaxed my congratulations and best wishes.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 17, a high school senior, and worried sick. Five months ago I became engaged to a boy I've been going steady with for two years.

Rich is a kind, sweet, wonderful person. I think I love him but as the wedding day draws near I become more unsure and frightened—almost panicky. I have just about decided I am not ready for marriage.

I always dreamed of going to work after high school, saving my money and travelling in Europe. The Orist fascinates me. I want to go there, too. My friends say I am crazy, that I shouldn't give up Rich for a foolish dream that will never come true. I'm so afraid they are right, yet I hate the thought of getting married and being tied down without having seen the world.

Am I a dreamer who is searching for glamour? Or am I sensible and realistic?—17.

Dear 17: I hope you will recognize your feelings of panic and fright as storm warnings. If Rich is the one for you, he'll be around in two or three years—after you've had a chance to grow up and fulfill some of your ambitions. If he won't wait, then you're lucky to have lost him. Too bad you can't read the stacks of pathetic mail I get from married teen-agers who feel trapped. They'd give anything to turn the calendar back a couple of years and stand at the crossroads, right where you stand now.

Dear Ann Landers: A very good friend of mine came back to the office after a two-week vacation. She looks like a million dollars—after taxes. I could scarcely believe my eyes. In two weeks she lost 14 pounds!

When I asked her how she did it she said, "Easy. It's not WHAT people eat, but the combination of foods that makes them fat. In other words, if you stick to just one food for a 12-hour period you will not put on weight—no matter how much you eat."

This makes a lot of sense to me. Does it to you?—GIRDLED AND JEALOUS.

Dear Jealous: No. It's ridiculous. If that "one thing" is a vat of macaroni you won't lose weight. You'll gain.

Fad diets can be dangerous. If you are really interested in losing weight, see your doctor and get his advice.

Baby Hippo First Born In Canada

GRANBY, Que. (CP) — Granby zoo director Gilles Charbonneau Friday announced what he describes as the first birth of a hippopotamus in Canada. The baby hippo, a still unnamed 40-pounder, was born in the zoo Thursday.

Don't Use Dogs Police Told

VANCOUVER (CP) — Prof. William Dixon of the UBC school of social work said Friday the dignity of the police is lowered by the use of snarling dogs. He urged that police "abandon their animal allies . . . to make their job professional."

Prof. Dixon told the B.C. Corrections Association conference Thursday Vancouver police should give up the use of dogs in order to raise the standard of law enforcement. In an interview Friday, he said: "It's a bit like cave-man justice. I don't think members of the police force should be identified with ferocious animals as their main ally."

Men Get $700 Week

Rush Adds Millions To Cost of Fair

NEW YORK (AP) — Round-the-clock construction, for which some workers are earning up to $700 a week, has added millions of dollars to building costs of world's fair pavilions, the New York Times reports.

The newspaper says some exhibitions believe the construction crisis was deliberately created by the unions. Construction men were accused of slowing down work for the fair's opening Wednesday. Major construction in several areas is still going on.

African Women Held for Protest

SALISBURY (CP) — About 100 African women were arrested Friday after they marched on the British high commission building protesting the detention of Southern Rhodesian Negro leaders.

More than 300 women joined the march through the centre of Salisbury to protest the detention of Negro nationalist leader Joshua Nkomo and three lieutenants.

WAITED OUTSIDE

The women chanted nationalist songs as they waited outside the commission building to see High Commissioner John Johnston.

They wanted to ask him to send a message to London calling on the British government to intervene in Southern Rhodesia.

Johnston sent them a message that he must have their request in writing.

Entitled to Aid

White Tams Defended

SPANISH, Ont. (CP) — Russell Thompson, a provincial welfare department official, said Thursday the department has a responsibility to feed the children of members of the Union of Electors, who refuse to pay taxes but live on relief. He said ratepayers in this community, 70 miles west of Sudbury, have complained about the actions of the French-Canadian group, commonly known as the White Tams because of the white berets they wear.

ALL ELIGIBLE

There are no member families receiving relief who are not entitled to it, although some have turned down employment opportunities, Mr. Thompson, the Algoma district regional supervisor for the welfare department, said in an interview.

They are treated the same as anyone else, he added. A welfare worker goes into the home and investigates the need and the circumstances.

GRANTED ON MERIT

"It doesn't matter if they wear white, black or blue hats. Relief is granted only on merit," he said.

"We have got to feed their children whether people like it or not. There are no employment opportunities for them in Spanish and until there are they will stay on relief." Mayor Charles Thornton of Massey, 15 miles east of here, said Thursday he told one welfare department official his whole council would resign if forced to pay relief to the White Tams.

Arabs Buy American

LONDON (AP) — Britain and the United States are negotiating for the sale of a complete air defence system to Saudi Arabia, including jet fighters, surface-to-air missiles and radar and communication equipment. Although Britain had hoped to sell fighters to Saudi Arabia, U.S.-built Northrop F-5s appear to have been selected, the sources said.

Local tax collector Austin Clipperton said a building, owned by White Tanager Maurice Brisson and occupied by a number of the group's members, has been placed in the hands of the Sault Ste. Marie sheriff for sale.

He said the property, valued at $8,000, would be sold for approximately $250 in tax arrears.

Four-Eyed Calf Still Strong

THATCHER, Utah (AP) — A Holstein heifer who looks at the world through four eyes and has two mouths and noses was 10 days old Friday. Most experts give the two-headed calf two weeks to live, but farmer Floyd Adams says the animal is getting stronger and exercises in a special sling he devised. The heads are complete and are joined in the middle of the forehead.

Home Shortage Changing Society

Shortage of adoption homes in Victoria could mean modification of society's attitude toward the mother of an illegitimate child and to the child itself, a meeting of the Family and Children's Service was told Thursday.

"It may very well become the responsibility of a community such as ours to provide resources in day care which would enable the unmarried mother herself to look after her illegitimate child," said executive director Gordon Wright.

He said a similar situation was developing across North America where adoption homes were becoming scarce.

He said the total of 146 illegitimate children born in Victoria was probably less than the actual number born to Victoria residents as Victoria lacks maternity home facilities as well as the anonymity of a larger city.

"It may therefore be assumed the number of illegitimate children born to residents of Greater Victoria is in excess of the 146 births that took place here," he said.

Toronto Smashes Record

Crazy Market Buys Anything

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto stock market went crazy Friday.

Spurred by what brokers called the wildest speculative flight the Toronto exchange has ever seen, the volume of shares traded soared to a fantastic 28,704,000—almost double the previous record.

By comparison, the highest volume of the New York Stock Exchange was 16,116,000 shares. That, incidentally, came during the crash of 1929.

Thousands of speculative buyers, carried away by a "let's-get-rich-quick" air that grew on itself, ignored warnings from the exchange and brokerage houses and bought shares of almost any property with holdings near the site of a major zinc-copper-silver strike near Timmins, Ont.

One veteran analyst called the market "typically hysterical—and then some."

Another said: "I don't ever recall seeing in 30 years on the street a market going so completely crazy."

Brokers noted that the speculation was based, in most cases, on nothing more than the fact that the most heavily traded companies had property near the site of the find by the United States Texas Gulf Sulphur Company.

One broker said he had spent the day advising would-be investors to look before they leaped—but all they wanted to do was buy, buy, buy.

THE BEST THING

But at least one broker was almost as enthusiastic as the buyers.

A. J. Reid of Waite, Reid and Company, said the buying boom "is the best thing that could happen to us—and to Canada, too."

"This 30,000,000 shares is nothing. We'll see 50,000,000 before this is over."

He also said he expects a reasonably strong speculative market all summer, as the smaller mining companies launch their exploration programs.

Poison Bed Sheets Sought In B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Medical authorities have launched a search throughout British Columbia for a shipment of bed sheets stained with a toxic poison.

Two young boys known to have absorbed the poison into their systems were in comas for 18 hours. Doctors said the poison was identified just in time to save their lives.

Dr. Lewis Anderson, medical health officer in North Vancouver, said Friday the flannelette sheets were brought to Vancouver from Antwerp by ship.

SALVAGE DEALER

They showed stain marks on their arrival and were purchased by a dealer in salvaged merchandise. The dealer took some sheets home and distributed the rest to retail outlets.

These outlets were being checked.

Dr. Anderson said laboratory tests identified the poison as Parathion, an organic phosphate type of compound used as a pesticide in the spraying of gardens and fruit trees.

ABOUT 16 DAYS

The boys affected were from neighboring homes. They became ill on April 5 and April 7, about 16 days after the sheets were first used.

Doctors brought them out of their comas with the antidote Atropine after discovering their ailment was not a virus as first suspected.

Dr. Anderson said a stroke of good luck and fine work by the doctors saved the boys' lives. "It was a close thing," he said.

Serving at 70

Not Much Time Left Khrushchev Admits

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev was showered with honors on his 70th birthday Friday and in return promised to continue to serve the Soviet people and world communism although he is at an age when a man "hasn't much time left."

With Soviet officials and Eastern bloc leaders gathered about him in the Kremlin, the premier said that despite the ideological conflict with Red China the road always will be left open "for a rapprochement and understanding." Nor will there be a break in relations with Peking, he said.

These were words that many of his supporters in the Eastern bloc wanted to hear, for they fear that a Soviet-proposed showdown meeting on Red China would leave the world Communist movement beyond repair.

ONLY TEMPORARY

Red China's Mao Tse-tung, Khrushchev's bitterest critic, sent birthday greetings saying their argument was only temporary. Even so, Moscow radio was slow in reporting the message.

And as Khrushchev spoke, the Chinese Communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao of Hong Kong kept up the criticism by calling him "a stupid fool" for his personal attack on Mao and other

De La Beckwith

Hung Jury Again

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The second murder trial of Byron De La Beckwith, a dedicated segregationist accused of killing "the general" of the Mississippi's integration movement, ended Friday with a hung jury.

Circuit Judge Leon Hendrick declared a mistrial and set Beckwith's bond at $10,000.

Hustled Away

Nearly two hours later Beckwith was hustled from the Hinds County jail where he has been held the last 10 months. A car, with Beckwith sprawled across the back seat, sped away. Sheriff Fred Pickett and a deputy were in the front seat.

Beckwith, a Greenwood, Miss., fertilizer salesman, is accused of being the sniper who shot Negro integration leader Medgar Evers in the back last June 12.

The all-white jury reported itself hopelessly deadlocked after 18 hours of deliberation "and many, many ballots." The vote was 8-4 for acquittal.

Pension Change

WINDFALL FOR B.C.

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative
Reporter

B.C. is likely to get a $100,000,000 to $160,000,000 investment windfall as a result of Prime Minister Pearson's modified Canada Pension Plan.

A drastic increase in the amount of pension fund assets to be made available for provincial investment is believed to be one of the lures held out to Quebec in the latest proposal. (See Page 5.)

Details of proposed changes in the pension plan filled a 7½-page "private and confidential" telegram to Premier Bennett from the prime minister yesterday.

WELL PLEASED

The premier told newsmen he could not discuss the contents of the wire, but made no secret of the fact he was well pleased with the new proposals.

At the recent federal-provincial fiscal conference he had urged that from 75 to 90 per cent of pension fund assets be invested in provincial securities instead of the 45 to 55 per cent originally proposed.

TM SMILING

Had Ottawa acceded to his request?

"Well, I'm smiling," replied the premier as he brandished the secret telegram.

Pension funds and their availability as instruments of provincial financing are a constant source of joy to the premier. As finance minister he is responsible for the administration of public employee pension funds amounting to about $270,000,000.

AGENCY BONDS

More than 90 per cent of the funds are invested in provincial agency bonds.

Canada pension fund assets from B.C. contributors would reach a peak of about $400,000,000 in 10 years. Whatever portion of this the federal government invested in B.C. securities would free a corresponding amount of capital controlled by the provinces.

Around World For Drink

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Jerrie Mock landed her red-and-white single-engine Cessna here Friday night and became the first woman to fly solo around the world.

She also set two world records—the woman's speed record and the first around-the-world flight of her Cessna's weight class.

She's also the first woman to fly the Pacific solo. Her greeting from the airport control tower as she ended the 29-day flight: "Jerrie, we've got a cold one on the rocks waiting for you."

Belgian Strike Ends

Modest Win Say Doctors

BRUSSELS (UPI)—Representatives of 10,000 Belgian doctors on strike against a new health insurance law consented early today to go back to work under an agreement by which the government pledged to withdraw a mobilization order.

Premier Lefevre, following lengthy session of talks which began Friday, predicted that normal medical services would be restored to the country within 48 hours. The strike began April 1.

"The baby has finally been delivered," commented Dr. Andre Wynen, one of the strike leaders. "It is a modest victory," said Dr. Joseph Faber, one of his colleagues.

Minister of Justice Pierre Vermeulen, announcing the agreement, said both sides agreed on what is to be discussed in formal negotiations to amend the state health law.

Most of Belgium's doctors went on strike charging that the health law would overburden their practices by making it possible for people with minor complaints to take up most of their time.

The doctors provided emergency treatment during the 18-day walkout, but many Belgian hospitals were jammed because of the strike.

U.S. Civil Servants 'Buy' PGE

New York civil servants are going for a $10,000,000 ride on the B.C.-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway and they won't get off for 30 years, it was learned yesterday.

The railway needed $10,000,000 for new construction and retirement of short-term notes. The whole loan was taken up by the pension funds of New York State teachers and New York City civil employees.

The 30-year loan will yield 4.5 per cent.

A cabinet order approving the loan was filed yesterday along with another which authorizes the B.C. Schools Capital Financing Authority to buy $10,000,000 worth of debentures from 23 school districts.

Vancouver schools will get $2,500,000 and Victoria $1,000,000.

My Summer Job: I Will Kill LBJ

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The themes turned in by students in a Jefferson High School English class were all entitled: "What I plan to do in the summer of 1964." One shocked the teacher.

The 10th line read: "I'll take a trip to Washington, D.C., and kill the president."

The teacher turned the theme over to the dean of boys, Jorge Garcia, and he called police.

Carl Delvic, 17, was put under $5,000 bond by U.S. Commissioner Paul Game Jr. Friday on a charge of threatening the president's life.

Game asked Delvic whether he still wished to kill President Johnson, and the youngster answered: "That is what I would like to do."

Asked if the theme—which also outlined plans to purge the U.S. of Communists, Jews and Negroes—was an accurate outline of his plans, Delvic said, "yes, sir."

money to hire an assassin, but if he couldn't get the money he would carry out the threat himself. He told Game he would try to get past the president's guards and use poison.

Delvic said he was not a member of any group holding these views.

The boy's mother was asked if she would accept responsibility for her son if he was released. She replied that it would be better that he remain in custody.

Bachelor's Buttons!

It's officially known as centaurea and it's better known as cornflower or even bachelor's buttons.

Whichever name, this flower is the latest free seed offer for 1964 from M. V. Churnet, garden columnist for The Daily Colonist. The details are in Sunday's edition.

One teenager was reported to have bought a stock at 63 cents, sold it a few hours later at 53 cents and pocketed $300 profit.

Not all investments turned out as well. One young man bought a stock at $1.52—and within 10 minutes of the hectic trading it had fallen to 87 cents.

has ever seen, came from people they had never heard of.

"You'd never believe how much time we had to spend explaining to people how they go about buying shares," one busy dealer said.

Stories of $50-a-week clerks who earned double and triple their week's salary in a few hours were almost as common as rumors of the latest hot stock.

Ribbon Clerks Take Plunge

TORONTO (CP) — Hundreds of people who knew nothing more about the stock market than that they wanted to make money plunged in Friday to find out what it was all about.

Flood Help

Fast Talker
Raises $80

Auctioneer Gagliardi

VANCOUVER (CP) — P. A. Gagliardi, B.C.'s fast-talking highways minister, changed coats with an auctioneer Friday and raised $80 in six minutes for Alberni Valley flood victims.

"Maybe I ought to do this for a living," quipped the colorful minister as he stepped down from the auctioneer's stand.

His first and only item was a Japanese camera, which he sold for $40, then added $40 out of his own pocket.

The auction, sponsored by a service club, raised $8,000 for persons who were flooded from their Alberni homes by a tidal wave kicked up by the Alaska earthquake March 27.

Stolen Rug Charge
Denied in Alberni

ALBERNI — An Alberni man has been charged with possession of stolen property in connection with a flood-soaked rug which had disappeared from the fence of a home as it was drying out following the tidal wave.

Frederick James Morry pleaded not guilty to the charge and was remanded until April 21 for trial.

Rev. J. T. Ross

Missionary
Dies at 96

ALBERNI — A pioneer missionary among West Coast Indians, Rev. John Telford Ross, has died at Sunset Inn, Qualicum Beach.

Born 96 years ago in Leith, Ont., he came to Alberni in 1896 and from then until 1950 served in mission fields on the coast and on the prairies for the Presbyterian Church.

WAVE VICTIM

An expert carpenter, he built houses and churches on reserves along the coast and one of his projects was the building of the Little Church on the Corner.

This church, at Beaver Creek and River Roads, was one of the buildings swept away in the tidal wave March 28.

At one time Mr. Ross was principal of the Indian school at Ahousaht.

Solarium's Shower
Opens May 1

The Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League's 25th annual Shower of Dimes will be officially opened by Lieutenant Governor Pearkes May 1.

The Shower of Dimes is one of four projects through which the league will contribute to the $150,000 which is required by the Solarium each year.

Two fashion shows will be staged today by the league in the Douglas Room of the Hudson's Bay Company; during the whole of May blue and gold umbrellas will be stationed in business establishments to catch the donations of passersby and May 30 a tag day is to be held.

More than 200 children under the age of 12 years are treated each year in the Solarium.

Envoys Pave the Way

No Trade Groans from Italy

Italy is one country which isn't groaning about its unfavorable trade balance with Canada.

Mario Castagna, Italian trade commissioner to Canada with headquarters in Vancouver, said in Victoria yesterday his country doesn't believe in trying to cut imports in order to balance a trade deficit.

Last year, he said, Italy bought $76,000,000 worth of Canadian exports and sold $55,000,000 worth of products in Canada.

"We're not concerned at all," he told reporters.

"We are not trying to do anything against it. We hope to correct it by exporting more and not by importing less."

Canadian exports to Italy consisted largely of raw materials, while Italian exports were mostly manufactured goods.

Canada, he said, has an "extremely aggressive" foreign sales force.

Mr. Castagna was in Victoria with Italian Ambassador to Canada Carlo de Ferraris Salzano, paving the way for a trade promotion program which opens here next month.

Union Official Says

Profits Show Firm
Can Afford Boosts

PORT ALBERNI — MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River's annual report shows the company can well afford all of the union's demands and still make fantastic profits in coming years, Maurice Corbell, financial secretary of the IWA's Local 145, said Friday.

A conciliation officer is presently studying the IWA's agreement demands.

CITES EARNINGS

Mr. Corbell said that the company's report which shows earnings before income tax $72,322,517 represents a profit of $385 for each employee of the company, including all salaried employees.

"Earnings for 1963 were increased by $2,500,000 over 1962. We are using the earnings before income tax because net earnings after income tax do not represent a true figure inasmuch as the company has charged $6,500,000 for income tax reserve to be used to pay income tax in future years," Mr. Corbell said.

"It should also be remembered that any increased benefits to workers come out of earnings before income tax."

"Recent press reports also indicate that the shareholders of Macmillan are faring very well. The company shares are now valued on the stock market at $30.

"This is more than a 100 per cent increase since the merger of the two companies in 1960. The shareholders are also getting $20,800 in dividends plus $14,000,000 tax-free dividends.

"All of this only indicates to us that this giant company can well afford all of the union's demands and still make fantastic profits in the coming years.

"Increased earnings for the woodworkers means more purchasing power and a boost to the economy of the whole community," Mr. Corbell concluded.

Given Reprieve

NANAIMO — A Harewood resident was given a two-week reprieve in magistrate's court Friday to allow him time to hook his household plumbing up to the Harewood sewer system.

Albert Welch of 491 Howard Avenue, charged with unlawfully discharging sewage from his home, pleaded guilty and was remanded to May 1 for sentence.

A senior public health officer told Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts "This has been a long-standing nuisance and it's definitely time it was out of the way."

Magistrate Beevor-Potts said, "You had better make some arrangements in the next two weeks. Open sewage is very bad for health and the smell is not good. If you don't take some positive action in this time I'm afraid I'll have to take the necessary steps."

The maximum fine of $100 can be imposed each day it continues.

Weed Under Fire

Province
Checking

NANAIMO — David Stupich (NDP, Nanaimo and the Islands) said Friday the provincial agriculture department is giving every consideration to the problem of eradication of the deadly weed, tansy ragwort, in Nanaimo farming districts.

The farmers' association has appealed for government aid in preventing the growth of the weed and destroying patches of it now on local farms.

METHOD SHOWN

Mr. Stupich recently attended a demonstration of a method which could be used to rid the land of the killer weed. A small propane torch was used to burn the roots of the plant which resembles a daisy.

Mr. Stupich said he thought a larger flame would be more effective.

U.S. SCHEME

The department of highways in Washington State uses a flame throwing machine to rid roadside of weeds but Mr. Stupich said he was "not too confident" about the success of this method.

Mr. Stupich said the department is aware of the problem of the local farmers.

Cattle Killer Hit

Propane gas in flamethrower is being used to destroy weed tansy ragwort, which has been blamed for death of cattle in the Nanaimo area. ## Bus Change Put on Trial

Bus service to the Colwood, Langford, Metchoan and Happy Valley areas will change schedules Wednesday and will continue on a trial basis for three months.

Conway Parrott, general manager of Vancouver Island Coach Lines, which took over service to the area on an emergency basis April 10, made the announcement yesterday.

He said that after a thorough study of the area, schedules have been worked out in conjunction with workers' bus services to Rocky Point. The coach line will provide five round trips daily except Sundays to Metchoan, Latoria Road and Belmont Park and six round trips to Langford and Goldstream Road.

After the three-month trial period, the service will again be reviewed by the company.

Mr. Parrott said, "A suburban run of this type is extremely difficult to run on an economic basis.

"Our company provides this type of service on the Saanich Peninsula, and if it is possible we hope to be able to work out a continuing and satisfactory service in the Langford-Metchoan area."

Commuting tickets bought before abandonment of the run by Veteran Stages will be honored until midnight Tuesday.

Assessment Case

Nanaimo Court Ruling
'Without Justification'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mr. Justice N. T. Nemets has termed an "irregularity of the first water" the ruling of the Nanaimo court of revision in a property assessment case.

This involved the Nanaimo court's ruling that a property assessment appeal by R. E. Nicoll was dismissed because he was in contempt of court. The ruling was given on the ground that Mr. Nicoll's case had been mentioned by a radio commentator prior to the appeal hearing.

WITHOUT JUSTIFICATION

The supreme court justice, in a ruling Thursday, found that the Nanaimo court acted without justification. At the same time he adjourned Mr. Nicoll's application to have the court of revision decision quashed. The adjournment was to give counsel for both sides an opportunity to confer and perhaps agree on a solution.

APPEALED ASSESSMENT

J. E. Spencer, counsel for Mr. Nicoll, who lives on Breakwater Island, said the Nicoll family decided to appeal their assessment on two parcels of property on Breakwater Island and on Gabriola Island.

But just before the hearing a radio commentator mentioned the case.

CLAIMED CONTEMPT

When the case came before the revision court a provincial assessor said the board should not hear it because of the fact it had been mentioned by a radio commentator. He claimed the Nicolls were in contempt of court. The revision court agreed and dismissed the appeal.

A. W. Hobbs, representing the attorney-general's department, agreed that the decision was not proper. He said it had been made on "bad advice." He made a number of suggestions to enable a new hearing of the appeal.

STIGMA REMOVED

Mr. Spencer said his client was mainly concerned with having the "stigma" of a contempt of court charge removed.

"This court (the provincially-appointed court of revision) has no jurisdiction to cite for contempt of court and then punish the man by refusing to hear his appeal," he said.

Mr. Justice Nemets agreed.

$1,000 Fine
For Hotel

NANAIMO — A local hotel company Friday was fined $1,000 and given a suspended sentence of one year after being found guilty of two charges under the Government Liquor Act.

Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts found Lotus Hotel Holdings Co. guilty of selling liquor on a Sunday and failing to file a list of employees with the Liquor Control Board.

Two employees of the firm, Henry Clark and Joseph De Pauw, had earlier been found guilty of selling beer on the premises of the Lotus Hotel Sunday, Oct. 13, 1963.

Prosecutor Harold Hine said that, although the owners of the hotel did not know of the illegal sale, it showed "a drastic lack of supervision."

Clark and DePauw were fined $300 each.

Oak Bay Recreation

'Common Sense'
Centre Reason

The Oak Bay Recreation Commission is basing its case for a new community centre on "need and common sense," commission chairman Ernest Costain said yesterday.

Mr. Costain said opponents of the $1,000,000 centre, proposed for the intersection of Foul Bay and Cadboro Bay Roads, base their arguments on higher taxes and insufficient need.

FIGURES GIVEN

He said the average house with a market value of $15,000 would be taxed about $1.40 a month more to pay for the site.

Mr. Costain said "common sense shows many people would pay more than this in transportation costs for their children and themselves in going elsewhere for recreation."

MAJOR POINT

A major argument of the commission concerns the possible "swapping" of centre time for the swimming pool and ice sheets with the school district to make school gymnasium space open during the day.

"This will provide an added convenience for both students

Toronto Smashes Record

Crazy Market Buys Anything

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto stock market went crazy Friday.

Spurred by what brokers called the wildest speculative flight the Toronto exchange has ever seen, the volume of shares traded soared to a fantastic 28,704,000—almost double the previous record.

By comparison, the highest volume of the New York Stock Exchange was 16,418,000 shares. That, ironically, came during the crash of 1929.

Thousands of speculative buyers, carried away by a "let's-get-rich-quick" air that grew on itself, ignored warnings from the exchange and brokerage houses and bought shares of almost any property with holdings near the site of a major zinc-copper-silver strike near Timmins, Ont.

One veteran analyst called the market "typically hysterical—and then some."

Another said: "I don't ever recall seeing in 30 years on the street a market going so completely crazy."

Brokers noted that the speculation was based, in most cases, on nothing more than the fact that the most heavily traded companies had property near the site of the find by the United States' Texas Gulf Sulphur Company.

One broker said he had spent the day advising would-be investors to look before they leaped—"but all they wanted to do was buy, buy, buy."

'THE BEST THING'

But at least one broker was almost as enthusiastic as the buyers.

A. J. Reid of Waite, Reid and Company, said the buying boom "is the best thing that could happen to us—and to Canada, too."

"This 30,000,000 shares is nothing. We'll see 50,000,000 before this is over."

He also said he expects a reasonably strong speculative market all summer, as the smaller mining companies launch their exploration programs.

Changed Pension Plan Windfall For B.C.

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

B.C. is likely to get a $100,000,000 to $160,000,000 investment windfall as a result of Prime Minister Pearson's modified Canada Pension Plan.

A drastic increase in the amount of pension fund assets to be made available for provincial investment is believed to be one of the lures held out to Quebec in the latest proposal. (See Page 5.)

Details of proposed changes in the pension plan filled a 7½-page "private and confidential" telegram to Premier Bennett from the prime minister yesterday.

The premier told newsmen he could not discuss the contents of the wire, but made no secret of the fact he was well pleased with the new proposals.

At the recent federal-provincial fiscal conference he had urged that from 75 to 80 per cent of pension fund assets be invested in provincial securities instead of the 45 to 55 per cent originally proposed.

Had Ottawa acceded to his request?

"Well, I'm smiling," replied the premier as he brandished the secret telegram.

Pension funds and their availability as instruments of provincial financing are a constant source of joy to the premier. As finance minister he is responsible for the administration of public employee pension funds amounting to about $270,000,000.

More than 90 per cent of the funds are invested in provincial agency bonds.

Canada pension fund assets from B.C. contributors would reach a peak of about $400,000,000 in 10 years. Whatever portion of this the federal government invested in B.C. securities would free a corresponding amount of capital controlled by the province.

BED SHEETS POISONED

Hung Jury Again

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—

The second murder trial of Byron De La Beckwith, a dedicated segregationist accused of killing "the general" of the Mississippi's integration movement, ended Friday with a hung jury.

Circuit Judge Leon Hendrick declared a mistrial and set Beckwith's bond at $10,000.

Hustled Away

Nearly two hours later Beckwith was hustled from the Hinds County jail where he has been held the last 10 months. A car, with Beckwith sprawled across the back seat, sped away. Sheriff Fred Pickett and a deputy were in the front seat.

Beckwith, a Greenwood, Miss., fertilizer salesman, is accused of being the sniper who shot Negro integration leader Medgar Evers in the back last June 12.

The all-white jury reported itself hopelessly deadlocked after 18 hours of deliberation "and many, many ballots." The vote was 8-4 for acquittal.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Medical authorities have launched a search throughout British Columbia for a shipment of bed sheets stained with a toxic poison.

Two young boys known to have absorbed the poison into their systems were in comas for 16 hours. Doctors said the poison was identified just in time to save their lives.

Dr. Lewis Anderson, medical health officer in North Vancouver, said Friday the flameless sheets were brought to Vancouver from Antwerp by ship.

SALVAGE DEALER

They showed stain marks on their arrival and were purchased by a dealer in salvaged merchandise. The dealer took some sheets home and distributed the rest to retail outlets.

These outlets were being checked. Dr. Anderson said laboratory tests identified the poison as Parathion, an organic phosphate type of compound used as a pesticide in the spraying of gardens and fruit trees.

ABOUT 10 DAYS

The boys affected were from neighboring homes. They became ill on April 5 and April 7, about 10 days after the sheets were first used.

Doctors brought them out of their comas with the antidote Atropine after discovering their ailment was not a virus as first suspected.

Dr. Anderson said a stroke of good luck and fine work by the doctors saved the boys' lives. "It was a close thing," he said.

Mrs. Jerrie Mock landed her red-and-white single-engine Cessna here Friday night and became the first woman to fly solo around the world.

She also set two world records—the woman's speed record and the first around-the-world flight of her Cessna's weight class.

She's also the first woman to fly the Pacific solo. Her greeting from the airport control tower as she ended the 29-day flight: "Jerrie, we've got a cold one on the rocks waiting for you."

Belgian Strike Ends

Modest Win Say Doctors

BRUSSELS (UPI)—Representatives of 10,000 Belgian doctors on strike against a new health insurance law consented early today to go back to work under an agreement by which the government pledged to withdraw a mobilization order.

Premier Lefevre, following lengthy session of talks which began Friday, predicted that normal medical services would be restored to the country within 48 hours. The strike began April 1.

"The baby has finally been delivered," commented Dr. Andre Wyssens, one of the strike leaders. "It is a modest victory," said Dr. Joseph Faber, one of his colleagues.

Minister of Justice Pierre Vermeiren, announcing the agreement, said both sides agreed on what is to be discussed in formal negotiations to amend the state health law.

Most of Belgium's doctors went on strike charging that the health law would overburden their practices by making it possible for people with minor complaints to take up most of their time.

The doctors provided emergency treatment during the 18-day walkout, but many Belgian hospitals were jammed because of the strike.

Not Much Time Left Khrushchev Admits

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev was showered with honors on his 70th birthday Friday and in return promised to continue to serve the Soviet people and world communism although he is at an age when a man "hasn't much time left."

With Soviet officials and Eastern bloc leaders gathered about him in the Kremlin, the premier said that despite the ideological conflict with Red China the road always will be left open "for a rapprochement and understanding." Nor will there be a break in relations with Peking, he said.

These were words that many of his supporters in the Eastern bloc wanted to hear, for they fear that a Soviet-proposed showdown meeting on Red China would cleave the world Communist movement beyond repair.

And as Khrushchev spoke, the Chinese Communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao of Hong Kong kept up the criticism by calling him "a stupid fool" for his personal attack on Mao and other

Ribbon Clerks Take Plunge

TORONTO (CP) — Hundreds of people who knew nothing more about the stock market than that they wanted to make money plunged in Friday to find out what it was all about.

Brokers said many of their orders for stocks, in the heaviest day of trading the Toronto Stock Exchange has ever seen, came from people they had never heard of.

"You'd never believe how much time we had to spend explaining to people how they go about buying shares," one busy dealer said.

Stories of $50-a-week clerks who earned double and triple their week's salary in a few hours were almost as common as rumors of the latest hot stock.

One teen-ager was reported to have bought a stock at 63 cents, sold it a few hours later at 83 cents and pocketed $200 profit.

Not all investments turned out as well. One young man bought a stock at $1.25—and within 10 minutes of the hectic trading it had fallen to 87 cents.

U.S. Civil Servants 'Buy' PGE

New York civil servants are going for a $10,000,000 ride on the B.C.-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway and they won't get off for 30 years, it was learned yesterday.

The railway needed $10,000,000 for new construction and retirement of short-term notes. The whole loan was taken up by the pension funds of New York State teachers and New York City civic employees.

The 30-year loan will yield 4.5 per cent.

A cabinet order approving the loan was filed yesterday along with another which authorizes the B.C. Schools Capital Financing Authority to buy $10,000,000 worth of debentures from 23 school districts.

Vancouver schools will get $2,500,000 and Victoria $1,000,000.

My Summer Job: I Will Kill LBJ

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The themes turned in by students in a Jefferson High School English class were all entitled: "What I plan to do in the summer of 1964." One shocked the teacher.

The 10th line read: "I'll take a trip to Washington, D.C., and kill the president."

The teacher turned the theme over to the dean of boys, Jorge Garcia, and he called police.

Carl Delvic, 17, was put under $5,000 bond by U.S. Commissioner Paul Game Jr. Friday on a charge of threatening the president's life.

Game asked Delvic whether he still wished to kill President Johnson, and the youngster answered: "That is what I would like to do."

Asked if the theme—which also outlined plans to purge the U.S. of Communists, Jews and Negroes—was an accurate outline of his plans, Delvic said, "yes, sir."

The boy said he planned to spend the summer raising money to hire an assassin, but if he couldn't get the money he would carry out the threat himself. He told Game he would try to get past the president's guards and use poison.

Delvic said he was not a member of any group holding these views.

The boy's mother was asked if she would accept responsibility for her son if he was released. She replied that it would be better that he remain in custody.
